SHOP MANAGEMENT IS ENDORSED

Secretary of War Stimpson is Convinced of its Desirability.

"TAYLOR SYSTEM" WAS TRIED

With the Result That Much Important Information Has Been Collected—No Conclusion Yet Reached

Washington, Nov. 2.—"Scientific shop management," today received the endorsement of the United States government. Secretary of War Stimson is convinced of its desirability and advantages, basing his conviction on a report made by Brigadier General William Crozier, chief of ordnance, made public today. The Secretary is satisfied that its introduction into government workshops would work no hardships to labor.

"It means a betterment and in no wise an impairment of the conditions of labor," he declared in a statement.

The report has been awaited by organized labor and the employers of labor with much interest. It is generally believed that the question will be one that will figure largely in the coming national political campaigns and for this reason especially General Crozier's findings are regarded as being of unusual import, as are the comments of Secretary Stimson.

"As set forth in detail in the statement which I have made public today, the War Department has given considerable attention to the utilization of the methods of 'scientific management' in the various arsenel shops of the government. The Watertown arsenel has been used practically as an experiment station, with a view of trying out the theory before applying it generally. The results thus far are highly gratifying and full of promise. There has been an undoubted increase in the efficiency of the workmen at the shop and a material reduction in the cost of manufacture, but at the same time, and to my mind even of greater importance, these results have been obtained without in anywise endangering the interests of the workingmen either by decreasing their pay or requiring unpleasant exertion, or 'speeding up.' On the contrary, any increase in the real efficiency must insure to the benefit of the workingmen.

"To my mind, 'scientific management' can and deserves to prevail only where increased efficiency means increased human efficiency and the workingmens' participation in the rewards resulting from efficiency. A change for that kind of betterment is the only kind of change which the government will permit through the installation of any 'scientific management.'"

In his report General Crozier declares that the ordinance department has been experimenting with the "Taylor system" of scientific management for the past three years, with the result that much important information has been collected. But even yet the problem has not been solved for his conclusion is thus set out.

"The department has not reached a conclusion as to the extension to other arsenels of the part of the 'Taylor system' of shop management which affects the workingmen, and it is not intended to do so in advance of further trials at the Watertown arsenel, but it seems certain that either by this system or by some other it ought to be possible to secure better co-operation of the employes among themselves and between them and the management than has been had in the past."

The report shows the manner in which the system was installed at Watertown. A planning room was provided which relieved the foreman of a large amount of clerical work and insured a continuance flow of work without cessation or loss of time, as well as the protection of the material in stock. Men were assigned to keep the tools of the other workingmen sharpened; laborers or messengers fetched and carried for the higher priced machinists, who were thereby enabled to devote their whole attention to productive work, and the plant was kept in thorough order by other men so that it could be worked at its highest efficiency. Experts showed the workmen just how fast their machines should run and how deep their tools should cut, thereby increasing their efficiency.

Hence it was possible at Watertown to reduce materiall ythe cost of manufacture. The labor of one set of parts for a 12-inch mortar carriage was cut from $480 to $275 and corresponding reductions were made in other work. All this was done, the report sets forth, without affecting the pay of the employes or requiring especial exertion by them.

General Crozier lays stress upon the claims that while further marked economics to the government will result in the adoption of the system and will be accompanied by increased pay and conditions geenrally satisfactory to the employes, as demonstrated by actual experience in shops in which the system had been operated.

Briefly stated, the chief features of the system contemplate offering additional pay to workmen for work performed in the manner and sequence selected from the results of careful study and completed within the time which that study indicates as sufficient for the purpose. The saving in time results aside from any increased efficiency of machines, chiefly from the effect of the instructions given the workmen, by which their effort is more advantageously applied.

BRIEFLY THIRTY-ONE DAYS

Arango Rodriguez, a Spaniard, Was Almost Dead When British Steamer Ikaria Picked Him Up From Small Boat.

New York, Nov. 2.—Blown out to sea in a row boat from the coast of South America, Arango Rodriguez, a Spaniard, formerly employed on the Panama Canal, drifted about for 31 days and was nearly dead and despairing of rescue when the British steamer Ikaria picked him up. The Ikaria reached here from Buenos Ayres bringing the castaway.

The Ikaria, when two days out of Trinidad, sighted a small boat with a nondescript sail, off the port bow. As she bore down the craft was found to be a row boat with a broom stick shipped as a mast and a tattered shirt set as a sail. Rodriguez, on the verge of collapse, was taken on the steamer.

When he had recovered somewhat he explained that he had been employed on the Panama Canal as a laborer and later went to Caracas. There he hired a small boat to go fishing and was blown off shore by a storm. He had on board a demijohn of drinking water, but for food had to depend upon fish he was able to catch. After the demijohn of water was exhausted he managed to trap enough rain water to assuage his thirst.

As the days went by and grew into a month, Rodriguez despaired of rescue and was almost too weak to sit up when after 31 days the Ikaria sighted him and took him on board and cared for him. The boat was set adrift.

FAMOUS ACTOR DEAD

Kyrle Bellew Passes Away in Salt Lake City With Pneumonia

Salt Lake City, Nov. 2.—Kyrle Bellew, one of the foremost actors of the English-speaking stage, author and explorer, died here shortly after 5 o'clock this morning of pneumonia.

Mr. Bellew became ill last Friday, but although a portion of his Salt Lake engagement was cancelled, his condition was not considered serious until yesterday morning.

The body will be taken to New York today accompanied by members of the "Mollusc" Company, in which Mr. Bellew was playing.

In addition to his successes as a romantic actor, Mr. Bellew was a dramatist and adapter.

The parts he played covered a wide field, but perhaps his greatest success was his performance of Raxes in the drama of that name. He also created the leading roles in "The Thief," "Brigadier General," "A Gentleman From France," and other plays.

His private life was as varied and adventurous as the roles he played He was born in Calcutta, India, in 1857, of English parents, his father being captain of the Calcutta Cathedral. For seven years he was a cadet in the British navy, but discovery of gold in Australia lured him from the service and spent a number of years in Australia working as a miner at Ballarat and as a reporter on Melbourne newspapers.

He made his stage debut at the Theatre Royal in Brighton, England in the early 80's. He came to America as leading man at Wallack's Theatre in New York. Later he became co-star with Mrs. James Brown Potter in Shakespearean repertoire, completing with her a tour that embraced all English-speaking countries of the world.

In 1900 he again felt the call of adventure and headed an expedition into North Queensland, which extended over two years. He returned to the stage in 1902 at the head of his own company.

His work as an explorer gained him a fellowship in the Royal Geographical Society and he was a member of many clubs.

Mr. Bellew was unmarried. He is survived by a sister, known as Sister Monica, who is in a convent near Paris.

DIX CERTAIN OF VICTORY

Democrat Success Means Continued Progress, Says Governor

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Predicting that the Democrats will win a victory at the polls next Tuesday, Gov. Dix, in a statement today, appeals to Democrats to support all the Democratic nominees, as "Democratic success means continued progress, efficiency, and honesty in the administration." His statement in part reads:

"The splendid record made by the Democratic House of Representatives at Washington has won the confidence of the country, while the Republican party cannot escape responsibility for the deplorable industrial and economic conditions under which the people of the United States are now suffering.

"President Taft's veto of the tariff bill proves that he is lined up with the extreme protectionists of his party, and that he is opposed to any revision of the tariff in the interests of the producing and consuming classes of the country."

AT WAKE FOREST.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wake Forest, November 2.—President William Louis Poteat has been in the Northern cities for the past few days. He is in New York city addressing the assembly of the New York Baptist ministers' conference. He delivered two addresses. One on the "Biological Revolution," and the other on "The Negro in the South." He is expected home within the next few days. Wake Forest is proud that she should have a president that should be honored by being requested to speak, in such a distinguished assemblage. Prof. J. H. Highsmith, of the department of education, spoke at the Liberty-Piedmont School the latter part of last week.

This week the football practice is being made rather heavy, on account of the exceedingly light practice of last week. Both Monday and Tuesday there were scrimmages between the 'varsity and the scrubs. The 'varsity is showing up well this week. There are yet many hard battles to be contested and the men realize that work is needed and so work is what they are doing. Singletary, the fast halfback, has been forced to go home on account of sickness in the family.

On Saturday the team goes to the University of Virginia. While it is known that the odds are on Virginia, one thing is certain—that Wake Forest will fight. So intense is the interest here that a detailed report of the game will be received over leased wire. They will be placed on a black board in the chapel, and almost as soon as a play is made all Wake Forest will know of it.

Saturday, November 11, the Wake Forest-Davidson game at Greensboro. There is benef here that Wake Forest will take that game. Of course, it is remembered that last year it was 52 to 0, but it is expected to turn the points some fifty or more points. The game will probably be the closest yet played.

The defeats thus far this year have been by amazingly small scores.

When it is remembered that Washington and Lee only won 18 to 5 and that Washington and Lee within a week tied V. P. I., it is shown what kind of a team Wake Forest has. All the line men are in good condition, and are working hard to save Dunn, who is only thought to be slightly injured.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN PRESIDENT.

John Claflin Says That Cornelius N. Bliss Could Have Been.

New York, November 2.—That Cornelius N. Bliss, former secretary of the Interior, might have been President of the United States, had he yielded to the pleas of William McKinley, was the declaration made to the New York Chamber of Commerce today by John Claflin, of this city. This interesting bit of unwritten political history was revealed at a memorial meeting of the chamber at which resolutions eulogising Mr. Bliss, who died recently, were adopted. Mr. Claflin delivered the principal address, in which he said:

"In 1900 McKinley urged him to signify a willingness to accept the nomination for vice-president. If he had allowed his name to go before the national convention, it is almost certain that no other name would have been presented and he would have been elected with Mr. McKinley in that year. Two years later, on Mr. McKinley's death, he would have succeeded to the Presidency of the United States."

MRS. M'REE BACK IN CELL

Placed There After Jury Failed to Come to a Verdict—Was Confident of Her Acquittal in a Few Minutes.

Opelousas, La., Nov. 2.—The jury in the McRee murder trial was locked up at 6 o'clock tonight with instructions to report to the court at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning when it is expected the court will order a mistrial.

Downcast and with sore disappointment, Mrs. McRee was led back to her cell in Saint Landry Parish jail where she has been held without bail since the day in September, seven weeks ago today, when she shot and killed Allan Garland.

The case was given to the jury at 12:10 this afternoon. After lunch was served the jurors began consideration of the evidence and at 3:14 P. M., reported to the court that they were hopelessly divided. They were sent back for further deliberation and at 6 o'clock the court took and adjournment until tomorrow.

Acting District Attorney DuBuisson announced this afternoon that in the event of a mistrial a re-hearing would be set for Monday of next week. He said the State would oppose any motion for a change of venue and would insist on the second trial being conducted in Opelousas.

Mrs. McRee appeared to be confident this morning that the jury would acquit her within a few minutes. However, after the jury had been out of the court room for 25 minutes both Mr. and Mrs. McRee began to show signs of uneasiness. Both had expected that a verdict of acquittal would be rendered immediately and as the minutes passed they seemed to become anxious and engaged in several whispered conversations.

NOT DUE TO UNFRIENDLINESS.

Premier of Canada Emphasized This Fact in Speech Last Night.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 2.—R. L. Borden, the new premier of Canada, emphasized the fact in a speech here tonight that the result of the recent election in Canada, by which the reciprocity agreement was defeated, was in no wise due to hostile or unfriendly spirit on the part of the people of Canada, to the great neighboring Republic, as had been claimed in some quarters. The occasion was a notable banquet tendered Mr. Borden by the Conservatives of Halifax, and of the province. In emphasizing his point Mr. Borden said: "It is desirable that any such idea, if it exists, should be dissipated and dispelled.

"The reciprocity compact would have interfered with Canada's complete control of its own fiscal system and in many respects it was properly regarded as a reversal of the policy which this country had pursued for many years. Thus the recent decision of the Canadian people was in no respect induced by any spirit of unfriendliness to the United States, it was rather brought about by their determination to maintain complete control of their own financial system to mould their own destiny along the lines of a policy which has been pursued in this country for the past 30 years."

THE COTTON PICKER.

Demonstrations End at Charlotte—Machine Shipped Back.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 2.—The Price-Campbell cotton picker, which has been doing demonstration work on the Keller farm, three miles west of the city for the past two weeks, has been packed up and forwarded to the factory at Woonsocket, R. I., where it will undergo such improvements as the inventors have in view for it. All who saw it in operation here were greatly impressed with its practicability.

HOUSES AND SHOPS IN PEKING CLOSE

FURTHER FIGHTING EXPECTED

Massacre in China City Expected to Begin Any Night—Bloody Hand to Hand Fights on Streets of Hankow

Peking, Nov. 2.—The massacre of natives at Hankow by Imperialist troops intelligence of which has reached both the war board and the German legation may prove a serious hindrance to the peace negotiations which Yuan Shi Kai has been endeavoring to inaugurate with the rebel leaders. The Imperialists apparently have got beyond control and further fighting is feared. In such a case it will be difficult to protect the foreign concessions as they are divided from the native city by streets, only fifty or sixty feet wide.

It is reported that the war board at Peking has declined to accept the suggestion of foreign doctors to form a Red Cross Society on the lines of the Geneva Convention, the board seeming to feel that the rebels do not deserve treatment. The massacre, according to some advices began before the departure of General Yin Tchang.

The exodus from Peking continues, the doors of many shops, as well as private houses, being closed in anticipation of a massacre. The American missionaries who have had a conference with the legation have decided that a few soldiers placed in each of the four large mission componds would suffice to prevent ordinary outlawry and looting, which is expected to begin any night.

But should there be a general outbreak all the others could take refuge in the Methodist mission which is immediately east of the legation quarter and easily defended. The diplomatic body will meet tomorrow to re-consider the question of allowing the Chinese troops to enter Tien Tsin, a consul there having made serious objection.

An official dispatch from Shih-Kia-Tan, Shan-Si province, says that a regiment of Shan-Si troops, which had been despatched to assist the Imperialists has mutinied. The mutineers killed their brigadier general and then bombarded a Manchu city, massacreing a thousand Manchus, including the governor and his family.

The letters October 28th and 30th from the Associated Press correspondent with the Imperialist army at Hankow say that in the struggle for the possession of the city there was a hand-to-hand fight in the streets, the quarters being too close for shooting. The rebels, mostly raw recruits, not understanding the use of rifles, were driven back with much slaughter, their dead piling up on the quay. The casualties among the Imperialists for two days, October 28th and 29th, were thirty killed and 160 wounded. The rebels had about 700 killed or wounded.

The fighting, continues the correspondent, until the last three days, had not been serious. The rebels had the advantage in number of guns, but their shells did not explode. The Imperialists had the advantage in troops, but they were poorly provisioned. No prisoners were taken. Rebels captured alive were shot or decapitated.

It is learned that the most barbarious outrages were perpetrated on innocent persons in the villages.

The staff of officers, says the correspondent, are quartered in an express train, with engine attached for immediate service. The chief of staff, Colonel Yih, is not at the front directing operations. Prior to the opening of operations on October 27th, General Yin-Tachang told the respective commanders that the advance must be made and rewards were offered to the soldiers for every gun captured.

The rebels, who at first numbered not more than 1,000, shot from the house tops, until compelled to retire the shells from the warships setting the houses on fire.

General Wong Shou Yuen, commanding the third brigade and General Wong Yih Chat, commanding the fourth division, stood bravely holding revolvers and shooting the soldiers who refused to fight.

Despatches received in Peking tonight say the Rebels occupied Chih-Hsin-Sen, on Monday last, but on the following day the Imperialists drove them to Liang-Tse-Kwang, an impregnable pass in the mountainous country. The rebels have torn up a half mile stretch of railroad and blocked the tunnel and now hold the pass with a small body of men.

Set Fire to Hankow.

London, Nov. 2.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says that the imperial troops set fire to the native city of Hankow on Monday night in order to drive out the rebels. The city, the dispatch adds, has been burning fiercely ever since.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 1.—Fire of an unknown origin started in the Oscar Barnes & Company furniture store in the central part of the retail district, caused damage estimated at $100,000 to $150,000, tonight.

AUSTIN DAM WAS FAULTY

So States Professor Frank McKibbon, of Lehigh University, at Inquiry, Which Is Being Continued.

Coudersport, Pa., Nov. 2.—That the dam of the Bayless Pulp & Paper Co., at Austin, Pa., the breaking of which on September 30th, last, caused over three score deaths and millions of dollars damage, was faulty in practically every detail, was the opinion of Prof. Frank McKibbin, of the engineering department of Lehigh University, and Alfred D. Flinn, department engineer of the board of water supply of New York City, expressed today when the inquest into the disaster was resumed. The inquiry was again continued, to accommodate T. C. Hatton, of Wilmington, Del., who designed and constructed the ill-fated dam for the paper company. When the inquest is taken up next month, Mr. Hatton will be the only witness examined and a verdict will come quickly.

Prof. McKibben gave it as his opinion that faulty foundations, design, construction and operation of the dam caused it to slide and break into nine pieces, where it had cracked almost a year previous. He submitted samples of the shale from the foundation which he crumbled in his hand on the witness stand and said that in no place was this more than an inch thick.

Mr. Flinn, the New York engineer, besides corroborating Prof. McKibbin declared the geological formation of the country would indicate to him that there was not a good foundation for a masonry dam. The dam was decidedly unsafe, he said, too thin for its height.

"It was an error to use so faulty a structure," he said.

Through George M. Miller, a contractor, letters written by President Bayless to the witness during negotiations toward reinforcing the dam in 1910, when it is said to have developed defects were introduced. In one of the letters Mr. Bayless mentions a four inch stream that leaked from beneath the dam and asked if certain work could be done "to satisfy the people of Austin."

NO JURY YET.

Out of 207 Veniremen Drawn, Only 10 Accepted as Yet.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 2.—Barring one man, the third venire of prospective jurors was exhausted at the close of court tonight in the McNamara murder case. Altogether 207 veniremen have been drawn. Of these ten sat in the jury box tonight, having been accepted as to cause by both sides—a gain of one man since yesterday's session in which no talesman was passed.

Counsel for both prosecution and defense in the trial of James B. McNamara renewed predictions that the entire 12 men might be accepted by tomorrow night if there were no hitch in getting more veniremen to examine.

The new-comer is M. T. McNeely, a retired tailor. He is still subject to peremptory challenge if the State or defense should desire to exercise it. It was considered unlikely tonight that the defense so desired.

Edward R. Jeffrey, under examination said: "If men belonged to a union they could not work for me."

Explaining how he heard of the Times explosion, Jeffrey said: "I heard one man holler to another that 'Old Otis got his'."

"And you think the building was destroyed by organized labor?"

"Yes sir."

"We couldn't bring you enough evidence to convince you otherwise?"

"You could not."

Heffrey was challenged for bias.

W. H. Andrews is the sole talesman left in the third venire.

Judge Bordwell said tonight that he was undecided as to when the next venire would be drawn.

DREAM "COMES TRUE"

Policeman Saves Lives in Manner Outlined in His Sleep

Boston, Mass., Nov. 1.—Patrolman William Noble, of Dorchester, dreamed that he was standing in Peabody Square when runaway fire horses rounded the corner. In his dream he saw five little children in the path of the mad animals. He seized the horses by the bits and brought them to a stop within three feet of the children—and then he woke up.

Still pondering over the dream, Noble when off duty yesterday walked to Peabody Square and told another "cop" about the dream. Just as he had finished two fire horses dashed around the corner, running wild toward a group of children in the square At the risk of his own life, Noble seized the bits and stopped the pair within a yard of the nearest child. Then he counted the children and was astonished to find there were just five.

CENSORS FOR POSTCARDS

Animal Pictures Among Those Barred From Mails in Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 1.—A crusade against objectionable postcards has been started by Postmaster D. A. Campbell, who yesterday appointed censors at all Chicago subpostal stations.

Hrere are the three chief kinds of pictures ordered barred from distribution: Men and women kissing; women in abbreviated costume; animal pictures.

When asked why he had placed the last named on the list, Postmaster Campbell said:

PRESIDENT VIEWS MIGHTY FLEET

TWO SUPER-DREADNAUGHTS

Will Probably be Built Each Year Until Completion of the Panama Canal and Then One Will Suffice.

New York, Nov. 2.—Fresh from his cross-continent tour of 13,000 miles, during which he received senatorial pleadings which seem to indicate early ratification of the treaties of peace and arbitration with Great Britain and France, President Taft today from the wind-swept bridge of the historic little cruiser yacht Mayflower reviewed the mightiest line of fighting craft ever assembled under the American flag.

The President had indicated in all his speeches in advocacy of the treaties of peace, that he entertained no fond delusion that war, by convention, could immediately be made a thing of the past. He declared that the treaties were a step in the right direction; that the armed camps of Europe were looking to the United States to lead in what might prove to be a great world movement toward the goal of peace, but that for a long time to come the suggestion of disarmament would have no force.

Today Mr. Taft let it be known that he would urge upon Congress the necessity of building two great super-dreadnaughts a year until the Panama Canal is in actual operation. The canal, he declared, would double the efficiency of the navy and from that time on one battleship a year might suffice to keep the American navy in the forefront of the world's military powers. Countless thousands of people joined with the President in paying tribute to the five score vessels which lay at anchor in the Hudson. Twenty-four first-class battleships were in the line, surrounded by armored cruisers, scout cruisers, meteor-like destroyers, torpedo boats, submarines and the rank and file of auxiliary vessels that serve as tenders to the fleet. There were 99 in all.

Twenty-two of the battleships toward the close of the day picked up their anchors, turned in the teeth of the gale, and went proudly out to sea. The President watched the passing pageant in impressed silence.

The review had been the most brilliant in the history of the country and with its conclusion the great fleet had dispersed, the various ships wending their way to home stations to await the call to Winter maneuvers in southern waters.

The setting for the review was a splendid natural marine amphitheatre. The fleet lay on the broad bosom of the Hudson, walled in on either side by the towering buildings of Riverside Drive and the precipitous cliffs of the New Jersey Palisaides.

The day was one of changing sunshine and shadow.

Out of the northwest there blew a gale which at times attained a maximum of 59 miles an hour and brought with it the chill of Winter.

One of the cloudbanks brought a flurry of snow with it, the first of the season here, but it did not deter the spectators who stretched for miles along the river banks and crowded the decks of excursion steamers circling about the warship anchorage.

There was one fatality during the day. Gustav Frey, a seaman of the battleship New Jersey, fell overboard, and drowned. The news had not reached the President when he left tonight for Hot Springs, Va., to spend four days in recreation before resuming the final stage of his long trip to Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The President arrived from the West shortly after 7 o'clock and went at once aboard the Mayflower where later he was joined by the Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Meyer, and the latter's staff from the Navy Department, Rear Admirals Wainwright, Porter and Vreeland, Captains Fletcher and Potts, and Commander Philip Andrews.

The ceremonies formally began at 9:30 o'clock, when the President's flag amid a roar of guns from every vessel of the fleet was broken from the main truck of the Mayflower. The little yacht by this time had moved up close to the head of the seven mile column of battleships and had cast anchor. Immediately the admirals of the fleet set out in launches to pay their respects to the commander-in-chief of the army and the navy. Mr. Taft received them on board with the honors due their rank and after the first formal exchange, had a personal word of greeting for each.

The wide river reaches had been lashed into white capped waves when President Taft went out to the flagship Conneticut to repay the courtesies of the commanding officer. The tiny power launch in which he rode bobbed about perilously in the rough water, but Mr. Taft did not mind the tossing. The Mayflower's guns boomed a salute as the President left the yacht and when his flag temporarily was hoisted on the Conneticut the other vessels of the fleet took up the noisy token of tribute and respect and for the second time their guns spoke in unison. The Presidential call on the flagship was brief and formal and the last of the ships had scarcely finished their 21 guns when the cannon of the Conneticut sent out fresh white puffs to indicate that the President had passed again over the side. Once more the fleet followed the flagship in its salutation to supreme authority.

When the President returned to the Mayflower and climbed to the forward bridge, the wind was fairly howling in the rigging. He was well muffled up in a great coat and needed every ounce of its warmth. His silk hat constantly was in danger of being carried away, but Mr. Taft held on to it grimly until the Mayflower, steaming up the river against the full force of the blow, had begun to pass the ships of the line. Then Mr. Taft doffed his hat in answer to the strains of the National anthem which came from each vessel and the rigors of naval formality scarce permitted him to don it again for a full hour and a half.

The Mayflower as she moved in and out among the gray-clad men of war, was attended by two torpedo boats. A round troop of the fleet completed, the Mayflower came again to anchor off West Twenty-third street to permit the President to further review the ships after they had gotten under way.

The ships had been pointed up stream all morning in the swing of an ebbing tide. It was intended that they should not get under way until the flow had changed and their prows had been pointed toward the wider waters of the lower bay. This would have made maneuvering the many vessels, in the close confines of the river, a comparatively easy task.

For more than an hour past the schedule time the President waited for the tide to change and for the advance of the moving fleet. But under the influence of the gale the ebb continued undiminished.

Giving up hope at last for an early change in conditions, Rear Admiral Osterhaus, in command of the fleet, flashed orders to get under way. The gray dressing lines which had flapped and fluttered throughout the day came tumbling to the decks and the military masts and yard arms of the battleships stood out again in all their gaunt bareness.

The exhibition of seamanship involved in turning the massive vessels practically in their own length against wind and tide, has never been equalled in the navy and called out great praise from the President and the naval officials aboard the Mayflower.

The maneuver successfully completed, the fleet began to move. The steaming column, flung farther than the eye could reach in the haze of the late afternoon, presented a fitting picture to close the notable day.

"Those who saw the fighting fleet," said President Taft, after the review, "could not fail to be struck with its preparedness and with its high military efficiency, and must have been proud of its personnel."

He said the demonstration had had an educational value in arousing patriotism, in illustrating the ability to mobilize on short notice and in showing the skill of the officers.

"The equipment of the fleet is excellent," said the President, "except as to the number of destroyers and cruisers and colliers in proportion to the whole number. To meet the full requirements there should have been approximately 100 destroyers or an average of four to each battleship."

Mr. Taft emphasized the fact that unless a navy is maintained at the highest possible state of efficiency it is a "needless extravagance." He said he was more than ever convinced of the desirability of conferring upon the commanding officer of the fleet the title of admiral or at least of vice admiral.

THE WAR IN TRIPOLI

Press Dispatcehs Are Very Meagre—Much Fighting Going On

Malta, November 2.—It is reported that the whole Italian fleet has left Tripoli for Turkish waters. The Italian government has suppressed direct sailings between Tripoli and Malta, owing to the leakage of news to foreign papers. All the mails from Tripoli have now to run the gauntlet of censorship at Sicily.

Constantinople, Nov. 2.—The commander of the Turkish forces at Tripoli telegraphs his government under date of October 30th, as follows:

"The Turks have occupied all the forts surrounding the towns. The Italians are demoralized and do not dare to venture outside the zone of fortifications."

Tripoli, Nov. 2.—The Turks this morning brought up a few guns to the south of Elmosri and opened fire. This was not effective as most of the shells failed to explode. The Italian artillery soon silenced the guns and forced the enemy to retire.

About 5 o'clock last evening Turks appeared before the line of defenses and forced the 82nd Italian Infantry to fall back from their positions. The cruiser Carlo Albert soon located the Turkish artillery and by a well-directed and vigorous fire silenced it.

London, Nov. 2.—The Daily Telegraph's Constantinople correspondent says that a sensation has been caused by the revelation that Hakki Bey, the ex-Grand Vizier, if impeached for neglect in the defense of Tripoli, will declare that the German Ambassador repeatedly assured him that Italy would never send a regiment or a ship to Tripoli. For that reason his cabinet had not considered it necessary to dispatch troops or war material to Tripoli.

HEAD CRUSHED LOOKING BACK.

About 25 miles outside of the city he was found by the fireman, who had been busy up to this time, laying half way out of the cab window. The left side of his head was crushed in and left ear almost torn off.

The accident probably happened when Hazelton stuck his head from the window to look back along the track and came in contact with a telegraph pole.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The German minister, Herr Von Kiderlen-Waechter, and the French ambassador to Germany, M. Cambon, today initiated the Congo portion of the Moroccan treaty. This means that the treaty is now complete and it is semi-officially announced that the entire document will be signed November 4th.

ATKINSON CHURCH.

Good Progress Being Made on Presbyterian House of Worship.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Atkinson, N. C., November 1.—For some weeks past, due to circumstances, I have not been able to report through The Star the progress we have been making on our church, but it does good to let our people know and keep in touch with the work, for knowledge is power. It is by knowledge that out interest is aroused, and when a people's heart gets in a thing, it always goes.

Our church is now all shingled, except about a day's work. We have decided to have this shingling done next Tuesday, Nov. 7th. Brethren, come and help us shingle the church, we will be glad to see you here next Tuesday. We thank quite a number of our friends for the little gifts to this work.

The work has been at a standstill for the past three weeks, because the building committee had exhausted the building money, and all our people got very busy saving hay. Brethren, your hay is harvested; now come bake to the church work, and use your muscle, your prayers, your brain and your money, until the church is fully inclosed.

Quite a number of our good brethren have promised to give us some money on this work, and I believe they have good intentions about the matter, for they are good people; but, brethren, promises and good intentions unfulfilled has never yet built a church. You can't buy lumber and material and pay carpenters on promises and good intentions. Talk is cheap; but it takes money to buy meat.

We now need about as much money to enclose our church with as it would cost to buy a fairly good mule, or a good buggy horse. We have but very few people in Caswell Church but what they could buy a good mule today, and pay spot cash for him, if need be. And shall a people abounding in plenty—yea, some of us in wealth—withhold the Lord's money, the worth of a good mule, with which to enclose this building with? I can't imagine such a thing.

At the last Baptist Association, our good Baptist brethren have set us a good example in the matter of church building. It was reported at the last Association that a good, large Baptist church was built, with all the wood work inside and outside, finished ready for the paint, with two steeples on it, and that the building was erected in Eight Days—and the people were not a very wealthy people, either—but their heart was in the work.

Brethren, will we finish our Presbyterian church at Atkinson in eight years at this poor, dying rate? If you will not turn loose your money to this work, why, give us your muscle, your manual labor. Send all money to Rev. E. B. Carr, Atkinson, N. C.

Sincerely, E. B. CARR.

SOUTHPORT'S HARBOR.

The Evening Chronicle of Wednesday says, editorially:

"Where the battleship goes The Associated Press follows, and it was mainly for that reason The Chronicle threw out the suggestion for a few battleships for Southport's coming railroad celebration. The reports of the occasion running through the Associated Press service would advertise that harbor to the world. And it is a harbor worth advertising. When the revenue cutter on which was the Taft party made the turn in the harbor on the occasion of the President's visit to Wilmington, he expressed his astonishment at learning that there was 60 feet of water under him. He was also impressed with the perfect land-locked conditions and with the broad and roomy appearance in the harbor on the occasion of the ovation to him, and he did not hesitate to say so. The fact is that the Southport harbor is one of the finest on the Atlantic coast. It could not accommodate as many ships, perhaps, as Hampton Roads, but it could ride them at anchor in greater safety. It could make entrance, room and clearance for the greatest coal-carrying fleet in the world, and the building of railroads, now accomplished and under way, insures the realization of Southport's dream of great coal docks. Over the bar from that port will go a greater part of the South's commerce through the Panama Canal. We want the world of development to know what a great port North Carolina has, rising and falling with the tide, practically idle, and the warship feature would give it the advertising. We feel mighty good over the fact that the committee on arrangements is up, awake and doing.

MASONS ON PROHIBITION

Want All Laws Enforced But Will Not Specify Them

Macon, Ga., Nov. 2.—The Grand Lodge of Georgia Masons declined to pass a resolution offered by Judge A. W. Fite, of Cartersville, calling on all officials in the State from the governor down to baliffs to enforce the State prohibition law. The lodge, however, adopted a resolution calling on all officials to enforce all laws. The Grand Lodge adjourned today after finally settling the question of a permanent headquarters for the Grand Lodge. Macon was selected.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 2.—Five minutes after Mrs. A. K. Noyes asked aid of the police in finding her husband, a machinist, missing since Monday his body was pulled from the St. John's river early today. It is said Noyes while preparing to ship a consignment of tools became intoxicated and fell overboard unnoticed by his companions.

COMPLETE BY NOVEMBER 1ST.

People Will Then Know What Caused Destruction of the Maine.

Havana, Nov. 2.—There is now every expectation that the exploration of the portions of the Maine immediately affected either by an explosion of a mine or of the magazines will be completed by the end of November, when the result of the entire examination of the wreck will be ready for submission to the board of experts. Up to the present all revelations may confidently be said to be strongly confimatory of the finding of the Sampson board of inquiry—that the ship was destroyed by an exterior explosion, supplemented by a partial explosion of one or more of the forward magazines. The officers in charge of the work, however, preserve a discreet reticence regarding the conclusions.

Additional cutting away of the wreckage reveals sections of the bottom and sides of the forward part lifted up and reversed evidently by a tremendous exterior force, which is apparently inconsistent with the theory that this condition was due solely to magazine explosions.

MR. CALDWELL'S CONDITION.

Beloved Charlotte Editor Critically Ill at Morganton, N. C.

Charlotte, N. C., No. 2.—A long distance telephone message to the Chronicle from Morganton today states that Mr. J. P. Caldwell spent a restless and unsatisfactory night and that his condition today is probably more critical than it has been. He spent a most satisfactory day Wednesday, but with the coming of night his respiration became more difficult and he was worried and exhausted by a cough. His friends are much concerned about his condition.

Macon Ga. Nov. 2.—An "inhaled" drunk is the latest thing in prohibition Georgia. When nearly a thousand gallons of blind tiger whiskey which had been seized in raids were burned at the garbage incinerating plant by the police here yesterday a large crowd of negroes gathered to leeward of the flames and sniffed the vapor with evident relish. Many went their ways with swimming heads cheaply bought.

New Orleans, Nov. 2.—Patrolman Joseph Lacoste, who was fatally wounded yesterday by a negro at the Algiers ferry landing, died last night at the hospital. Corporal George A. Roussell, who was shot in the neck is in a serious condition. Joseph Spencer and John L. Creevy, who were beaten over the head with the butt of a revolver by the negro, will recover. The negro was shot dead.

LABOR UNIONS APPROVE.

Workingmen in Fight Against Tuberculosis Endorse Sale of Stickers.

New York, October 28.—Direct approval of the campaign for the sale of Red Cross Seals has been given by the American Federation of Labor, according to an announcment made today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

At the last annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, a resolution was adopted calling on all the membtrs of the Federation to further the sale as much as possible. The resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, The American Federation of Labor has in every possible way aided the movement for the study and prevention of tuberculosis throughout the United States and Canada, and

"Whereas, The American National Red Cross has been in the past and is now making an especial effort, through the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals, to secure funds to carry on the war against tuberculosis, and by means of the funds raised in this manner has been able to do much effective work in this direction, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the American Federation of Labor give its endorsement to the movement of the American National Red Cross, and encourage its members to further in every reasonable way the sale of these seals in their respective communities."

There are now four special methods by which consumptive workingmen in the United States are being cared for. In such cities as Albany, Elmira and Binghamton, N. Y., the unions support a separate pavilion or hospital. In cities like Hartford, New Britain and South Manchester, Conn., the workmen contribute towards the maintenance of a fund for the care of consumptives. The employers also contribute to these funds. There are also two national sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis owned and operated by labor unions—one by the International Typographical Union and the other by the Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union. In Massachusetts, Illinois, and elsewhere, large corporations and manufacturers have agreed voluntarily to care for all their consumptive employees for a limited length of time.

"But as long as consumption kills one in every three workingmen between the ages of fifteen and forty-five," says the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, "more education, better shop and home conditions, and more hospitals are needed. Red Cross Seals provide these things."

GREAT BASEBALL MEET

San Antonio Preparing to Entertain The National Moguls

(Special Star Correspondence.)

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 4.—From every part of the country word is being received from baseball men and fans coming to the National Baseball Convention to be held here November 15th to 18th. Tim Murnane, sporting editor of the Boston Globe, has promised to bring about forty baseball enthusiasts in his party that is coming by way of the Mallory Steamship line from New York to Galveston. J. Cal Ewing, of San Francisco, a director of the California League and president of the San Francisco Baseball Club, has sent notice that a special car will be chartered to bring the Frisco baseball magnates and fans. C. R. Williams, of Roanoke, Va., president of the Virginia Baseball League, wrote that the Virginians coming to the convention would more than fill one car. James H. O'Rouke, of Bridgeport, Conn., said to be one of the most popular members of the Board of Arbitration, and a ball player with a record that few can excell, will be here with a party of Connecticut fans, and will very likely make one of the two teams to be organized by Murnane and Ewing to play an exhibition game during the convention. W. M. Kavanaugh, of Little Rock, Ark., president of the Southern Association of Baseball Clubs and a member of the Board of Arbitration, also has promised to attend and he will "bring a party of Arkansas travelers that will give a good account of themselves and of their State."

Among distinguished ball players of earlier days on the diamond that have made plans to attend the convention is "Pop" Anson, said by many to be the greatest ball player the country has ever known. An effort is to be made to get him to do a baseball "stunt" on the stage of one of the local theatres during the convention and it is believed this will be one of the greatest treats that could be given the visitors.

It appears probable that between one and two thousand baseball enthusiasts and fans will be gathered here during the convention.

The fact that the most progressive orchardist in the country, including the celebrated Hale orchards of Georgia and Connecticut, are using it right along indicates that it is safe for any reasonably careful and intelligent person to use.

THE SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE faced a serious problem. He had a chance to close a big deal, but in order to do it, he would have to go outside his instructions.

A personal consultation with his firm was absolutely necessary. He called them up on the Long Distance Bell Telephone, outlined the situation—and the deal was closed.

Such a talk was as satisfactory as a face to face conference. The world's greatest business men make the Long Distance Bell Telephone the means of wonderful achievement. It can serve you as well.

DOINGS OF A DAY IN COLUMBUS

Deer Plentiful—Important Educational meeting—War Against Vagrants. Great Chadbourn Rally. Governor Kitchin.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 2.—Yesterday morning Russell Spivey, a young man of Whiteville, aged about 18, brought in two fine deer, a prong buck and a large doe, that he had killed at one shot, on the Lumberton road, about two miles from Whiteville. News was brought to town that fresh deer tracks were seen after the rain, and Spivey and other parties went out with a dog to see if they could be found.

Russell was sent to follow the dog, being given a one-barrel shotgun. The dog jumped the pair of deer within a short distance of the young man when he pulled down and killed both at the first and a single fire. There are a great many deer now in the woods and a number are being killed.

One of the most important meetings ever held in Columbus county was that which resulted in organizing the trustees of the schools in the county. It was largely attended and much enthusiasm manifested. Mr. G. Herbert Smith, of Acme, was unanimously elected president, which was a most fitting compliment, as Mr. Smith has done a great work in the upbuilding of the schools. He gave a check for $300 toward the handsome academy building between Newberlin and Acme.

Bolton township will vote on a new stock law district and it is believed the same will carry. It would save the building of a long string of fence for the section which adopted the stock law adjoining.

Whiteville is waging war against tramps and other vagrants, and Chief of Police Thompson is doing good work in rounding up these fellows. Monday he arrested ten Germans who were stealing a ride on the Coast Line train, and came from Fayetteville, via Wilmington. They were given 15 days each on the chain gang. Our town and county authorities are determined to break up the bands of vagrants and make them either serve terms on the chain gang or go to the cotton field. These Germans were terrorizing our colored people, invading their homes and violently taking all the cooked provisions they found on the premises. In some instances they ran negroes away from their homes and took possession of them. All but three of the number could speak English. A great many tramps are now traveling through the country, stealing rides on the bumpers of freight trains.

Governor W. W. Kitchin will address the voters of Columbus at Bolton on Saturday afternoon, November 11th, and a large crowd is expected Governor Kitchin has many friends in the county and will receive a warm welcome. But there is no denying the fact that Senator Simmons is gaining strength, and the race here, from the present outlook, will be between Simmons and Aycock. Governor Aycock will poll a surprising vote here, and the general impression is the man who defeats him will represent our State in the United States Senate.

Great preparations are being made for the big Farmers' Rally at Chadbourn next Wednesday, November 8th. A large delegation is expected from Wilmington, and especial arrangements are being made for their reception and entertainment. Editor Clawson, of the Star, has promised to come, and his name will be put in the dinner pot.

Preparations for the entertainment of the hundreds of visitors at Chadbourn are going rapidly forward and everything will be done that can be done to make it a most pleasant occasion. The railroad people have done themselves proud in providing the most excellent train service possible and everyone in the county who wishes to attend will be able to do so, and that without leaving home at such an early hour and will be able to return home early in the evening. In addition to the regular trains there will be an extra, which will leave Newberlin about 8 o'clock (the schedule and rate to appear elsewhere) arriving at Chadbourn shortly after 9 o'clock. Another will leave Tabor about the same time, which, in addition to the regular trains from Fair Bluff and Boardman will place everybody on the grounds in good time. Leaving, trains will leave Chadbourn, not only going to Fair Bluff and Boardman at the regular time, but extras will leave at the same time for Tabor and Newberlin.

The programme for the day will be as follows:

9:45—Address of Welcome—O. Powers, Mayor.

10—Response—T. E. Brown, Agent Farm Demonstration Work.

10:15—Introduction—D. F. Strole, County President Farmers' Union.

10:30—Address—H. Q. Alexander, State President Farmers' Union.

Lunch.

1:00—Parade.

2:00—Address to school children—Hon. J. A. Brown.

2:20—Introduction—F. T. Wooten, County Superintendent.

2:30—Educational Address—Prof. N. W. Walker, Chapel Hill, professor of Department of Education and Inspector of High Schools.

4:00—Announcement of prize winners.

There will be no public dinner. Everyone will provide their own dinner unless they have friends who will provide for them. This holds for Columbus county. Those visiting from adjoining counties will be provided for.

DELAWARE LEADS.

All the Battleships at Battle Practice Held September.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The American dreadnought Delaware, of the Atlantic fleet, leads the other battleships in efficiency at battle practice, held off the Chesapeake capes during last September, with a score of 52.551. The records of the other battleships in the order of their scores are:

New Hampshire, 48.249; South Carolina, 45.191; Washington, 36.949; Vermont, 36.300; Louisiana, 30.939; Kansas, 30.818; Michigan, 30.787; Connecticut, 29.664; Georgia, 29.236; Minnesota, 24.810; Mississippi, 24.723; North Dakota, 22.393; Virginia, 19.514; Missouri, 19.357; Nebraska, 17.134; North Carolina, 11.280; Maine, 11.091; Ohio, 9,730; and Idaho, 9.223.

ROSE HILL AFFAIRS.

Live Items of Duplin's Progress—Circus at Wallace.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rose Hill, N. C., Nov. 2.—This section turned out to the Jones Bros.' Show at Wallace Monday and, of course, took in the whole thing. The streets of Wallace were lined with the people all day, with the colored folks largely in the majority.

Mr. E. McN. Carr, of this place, offers 400 acres of fine land for sale in and around Rose Hill. This land is fertile and will produce any kind of crops known to this section. On account of the splendid climate and the variety of soil the lands in this territory, known as the trucking belt, will continue to increase in value. The tobacco warehouse at Wallace, under the management of Messrs. John H. Carter and A. B. Bains, has done a large business this season. Their great prize sale took place on Tuesday when the farmers from all the surrounding country were there. Among those to receive prizes for fine grades of the week and for largest amounts sold that day were: Thigpen, Newkirk, Blackburn, Edwards, Jackson, Hunter, Benton and several others. There were between 30,000 and 40,000 pounds sold. The farmers went away rejoicing and singing the praises of the Wallace warehouse. On account of the low prices of cotton many farmers in this section are going to cut it out next year while the rest will reduce acreage. The terrible unrest now existing throughout the country and the failure of President Taft to offer any relief to the farmers in the last session of Congress, has brought on a situation that is deplorable everywhere. The farmers are at sea now in regard to the right step to be taken and so far as a money crop is concerned, they will no doubt grow a greater variety of crops in the future. This is the lesson they have got to learn. Tobacco has paid well and in this county that crop has tided over a great many farmers in their hour of distress. They will venture back to the old methods and more hog and hominy and other home supplies so with or without cotton and abbreviated clothes, the farmers are going to live.

Good roads from Wallace and Rose Hill reaching east to the Chinquepin and Hallsville sections of Duplin will give those splendid farmers an easier way of transportation and these roads will be built soon.

Traveling men tell us that the two extra passenger trains on this section of the Atlantic Coast Line are a great convenience. The public generally appreciate the splendid schedules and accommodations of the railroad company.

REV. F. WEISS DEAD.

Lumbzerton Pastor Passed Away Yesterday Evening—The Funeral.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton Pastor Passed Away Yesdinand Weiss, for the past several years pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle Church of this place, died this evening at 6:10 o'clock after an illness of nearly three weeks. Mr. Weiss was about 50 years of age and one of the most devoted Christians that has ever lived in this section. He was loved by all our people regardless of denomination and his death will be deplored by all who knew him. He is survived by his wife and one daughter and one son. The funeral will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church of which he was pastor. It is not known tonight where the interment will be made, but it is expected that the remains will be carried to Philadelphia, his native home, where his aged mother resides. A brother and sister arrived from that city Tuesday and were with him when the end came.

HOOKWORM IN PENDER.

Campaign Being Waged With Dispensaries at Currie, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Currie, N. C., Nov. 2.—The hookworm dispensary in charge of Dr. C. L. Pridgen and wife which is located at this place for the week has been crowded with applicants for examination and treatment. Over 300 were examined during the first two days, and 60 per cent. of this number were found to be infected. Our local physician, Dr. G. F. Lucas, one of the pioneers of this work in Pender county, has treated a number of cases of hookworm disease and some of his patients have responded so wonderfully that people from all sections as well as other counties are coming here for treatment. Over 1,800 people have come to the Pender county dispensaries for treatment during the past 12 days.

Harrisonburg, Va., Nov. 2.—This section experienced its first taste of Winter today. The air was crisp and sharp and the sun shone with Winter brightness upon fields of mountains covered with snow.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Contracts Signed, Sealed and Delivered Yesterday—New Charters Issued—Steel Engraving of Earl of Wilmington.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 2.—Contracts were all signed and sealed today for the erection of the new fireproof State building, bids for which were opened last night by the State Building Commission, Hon. Ashley Horne, chairman, and Wm. E. Springer, Wilmington, secretary.

Chairman Horne remained in the city today to close up the contracts which are with the John T. Wilson Co., Richmond. The bid put in by the Wilson Co., was $179,000, and the commission made a number of additions to the specifications that brought it up to $188,000. This includes a completed building to be delivered to the commission January 1st, 1913. This is just nine days before the next Legislature convenes. The building will be four stories with Indiana limestone exterior and brick reinforced. Also the floors will be of reinforced concrete with tile finish, except the Supreme Court room and offices which will have a hard wood finish to keep the feet of officials and clerks off of the cold concrete work. The doors and door facings and window facings will be of sheet steel treated to fine wood finish, thus making the building just as fire-proof as it is possible to make one. The site—the square fronting Morgan street and Capitol Square, between Fayetteville and Salisbury streets—is under forfeit contract to be cleared off by November 15th and Mr. Wilson says he will be ready to get right to work on the excavations and construction work. The building will have a complete basement finished throughout.

There is much gratification here at the announcement that the Southern Railway will put on a new train between Asheville and Salisbury at 12:25 A. M., and returning, leave Salisbury at 4 A. M., and reach Asheville at 10 A. M. Connections will be made with trains Nos. 30 and 31.

A. B. Andrews, Jr., has just secured some rare old steel engravings of historic value, notably one each of Sir Walter Raleigh and Lady Raleigh, the latter showing Lady Raleigh at the age of 35. Another is of Spencer Compton, Earl of Wilmington, for whom the city of Wilmington was named by the Colonial Governor. Compton was speaker of the House of Commons nearly 200 years ago.

The Hickory Manufacturing Co., of Hickory, received a charter today with $150,000 capital authorized and $27,800 subscribed by Josephine Bailey, New York; J. D. Elliott, Hickory, and others for making furniture of all kinds. Also vehicles. There is another charter for the W. C. Lindsay Co., Durham, capital $50,000 by W. C. Lindsay and others for insurance and real estate business. The Hitchcock-Trotter Co., Winston-Salem, amends its charter by changing the par value of stock shares to $25 from $100 and providing for the issuance of new stock, but retaining $75,000 as maximum.

Counsel for Dr. J. J. L. McCullers have reinstituted their suit against the Wake county commissioners to test the power of the State Board of Health to intervene and appoint a county physician when, through disagreement, the county commissioners and county board of health fail to fill the office. McCullers was appointed by Secretary Rankin of the State board over the protest of the county commissioners who refuse to recognize him or allow any pay, although the State Board of Health, in appointing McCullers, specified fees he was to receive for service. The original case was thrown out of court yesterday because of defect in institution, the commissioners being sued individually instead of as a board. A test case to the Supreme Court is desired to settle the question as it applies to any county in the State.

Sweetness

is Nature's signal that a food is good. You need sugar—lots of it. But it must be natural sweetness. Some syrups are masqueraders—really tasteless and healthless, with a sprinkling of sugar.

ALAGA SYRUP

is an ideal food with an ideal taste—made of Georgia ribbon sugar cane. Better than beefsteak. Any good grocer.

MILAM FOR GOOD BLOOD

What Milam Is

Milam is a preparation made from a formula in successful use 46 years in the treatment of all diseases arising from the blood. It contains no alcohol, cocaine, morphine, mercury, potash or other dangerous or habit forming drug. If a fair amount is taken, results are

Absolutely Guaranteed

What Milam Does

Milam eradicates from the system the most virulent blood diseases, besides removing the cause of Rheumatism, Eczema and other skin affections, heals from within ulcers and old sores, elimnates uric acid, clears the complexion, builds up the system—and is a genuine

Reconstructive Tonic

Eczema

Worst and oldest cases yield to MILAM; reliable people testify:

For over five years I suffered severely with Eczema. I was treated by many physicians with no result. A friend advised me to try Milam and I am glad to say it has entirely cured me. A. E. Strickler, Roanoke, Va., salesman for Bradford Shoe Co., Columbus, O.

My face was raw as a piece of beef when I commenced taking Milam. I shaved last Sunday for the first time in seven months. W. K. Driskell, Lynchburg, Va.

Up until last April for the past 26 years I suffered with eczema in its worst form; tried everything until disgusted with doctors and medicines. After taking four bottles was entirely well—took four more to be sure. Have had no return since then (9 months.) C. H. Williams, traveling salesman, Chatt, Peabody & Co., Troy, N. Y.

Milam has done me more good for eczema than all the medicines I have ever taken before. It has cleared and softened my skin and given me a great appetite. H. W. Layden, Spray, N. C.

I have been suffering very much with eczema in my head, causing severe itching of the scalp for several years. After taking four bottles of Milam I was entirely relieved. Every spring I would break out with that awful eruption until this spring I saw Milam advertised. I cannot praise Milam enough, as this is the first spring and summer I have enjoyed in three years. Miss Winnifred Posten, 731 Patterson Avenue, Roanoke, Va.

It will do you no good to put it off—nothing to gain, all to lose. Act today.

Your druggist has Milam or can get it very quickly from any drug jobber.

It is said $100 counterfeit bills are in circulation. The coal men should be on their guard.

We can't remember the name of the Chinese generals. All their names look like a brushheap.

President Taft returned to Washton on Wednesday and no doubt he is glad his long trip is over. However, he must feel just like he has come back from a funeral.

The whole country will acknowledge that President Taft spoke frankly during his 15,000-mile tour. He stated things so plainly that it will keep a lot of people from being fooled into voting for him.

Instead of Col. Roosevelt's keeping quiet, the Taft administration would like to have him go on the stand and squeal on those steel trust people who are alleged to have deceived him while he was President.

Says the Greensboro News: "We never could understand why a Chinaman should want to wear a pigtail on his head." It is quite as hard for a Chinaman to understand why many Americans have all the hair pulled off the top of their heads.

Treat strangers right if you don't want to get your country knocked. Virginia people did not make it nice for the Glidden tour, and now the Gliddenites are saying things that won't do Virginia any good. Look out for the visitor with his little hammer.

The low price of cotton has not so seriously affected the farmers of eastern North Carolina, for they have made money on tobacco, peanuts, strawberries, truck and other crops. Their independent condition speaks volumes in favor of planting several kinds of crops.

Secretary Meyer reviewed 99 ships of the Navy and came off "pleased," so the dispatches say. Owing to the courtesy displayed on the war ships, anybody would be pleased after having been shown over even one ship. It is a wonder how the Secretary managed to take in the whole bunch.

The cotton conference at New Orleans has advised just what The Star has urged for years and has been doing ever since the price of cotton declined—just as we expected it to do. The principal remedy urged by the Southern Governors at New Orleans is diversified farming. When will we learn?

Says the Washington Post: "There is a growing impression in Nebraska that Bryan will bolt the Democratic National ticket next year if the nominee does not measure up to the Nebraskan's specifications, the first and most important of which is that he shall not be 'controlled by the interests.'" We hardly believe Col. Bryan will be the only one to keep it from being unanimous, although in doing so, he would treat others just as he has been treated by them.

The Progressive Farmer thrusts home a good point for consideration of the cotton-idead farmer: "Cotton, nine cents a pound; hay, thirty dollars a ton. And yet the South insists on killing thirty-dollar grass to make nine-cent cotton! Mightn't it pay you to follow the example of the man we mentioned last week who quit cotton to grow hay—two and three tons to the acre and at one-fourth the labor cost of cotton growing?" In all probability the grass which the farmer tried to keep down was worth more than the cotton he made on his land. His grass would have made forage and also helped his land.

THE UPPER SOUTH.

President W. W. Finley, of the Southern Railway, comes along once more to convince us that we are living in the finest region on the face of the earth and that its resources, its adaptabilities and its possibilities combine in such an infinite way to furnish the most convincing evidence to us and to the world, if we take the pains and go to the expense of proclaiming it. President Finley has proclaimed it in "The Outreach," a new magazine which has just made its appearance at Charlotte. He contributes the leading article and he writes on the inspiring topic of "The Possibilities of the Upper South."

"There are some regions in the world," says President Finley, "peculiarly adapted to agriculture; there are other regions with special advantages for manufacturing. There is not, in my opinion, any other region of equal extent in the world, combining in such a high degree advantages, both for agriculture and for manufacturing, as the Southeastern States."

The Star has said as much many a time, but coming from President Finley in that shape, it gives powerful emphasis to what we must hammer into each other and give publicity to abroad. Mr. Finley makes that declaration tersely and pointedly. It is a classic and ought to be rolled around every tongue in these Southeastern States. If some of us haven't been convinced of that, it is time we are getting to "know" our country.

Mr. Finley makes that striking declaration in The Outreach, and he not only does that, but he goes on in his article to prove it in strong terms, not after the manner of one speaking in extravagant terms but in a philosophical and convincing way. He is president of one of the South's great railway systems, and it is fortunate for the South that one so able, and possessing such a comprehensive grasp as he, is closely identified with the progress of the South.

The Outreach fitly observes, in an introductory way, that "President Finley not only attends to the business end of the great railway of which he is president, but gives thoughtful attention to every phase of Southern development." It is also known of President Finley that he mingles freely with all classes of people along his lines and is doing a great deal for their agricultural, industrial, educational and material progress. His is a comprehensive work and the South is to be congratulated that his splendid ability, keen interest and wonderful energies are enlisted in the development of the South on the broadest lines.

EDITOR HEMPHILL ON THE JOB

The Charlotte Observer came to us yesterday with the foreword of Major J. C. Hemphill, introducing himself to the people of Charlotte and North Carolina. It is mighty hard for an editor to introduce himself when everybody already knows him as a newspaper man. As an editor, engaged on such superior papers as the Charleston News and Courier and the Richmond Times-Dispatch, the Major has placed himself en rapport with a very large number of readers and through his utterances they have gotten a pretty good glimpse of the editor and the man. It is hardly necessary to state that on account of his way of delivering himself of editorials, quips and flings, the whole of North Carolina has found him out. His happy faculty of putting it on paper, the fecundity of his mental storehouse, his originality and the versatility of the Deacon are known far and wide and so he needed no introduction. However, he introduced himself in a graceful way—nothing like a salutatory—and just lit into work.

North Carolina editors will be glad to welcome so distinguished an editor as Major Hemphill, and personally we feel like it is only meeting up with an old friend who has been off and come back. We particularly congratulate North Carolina journalism for reaching out and taking into its fold so well equipped a newspaper man as Major Hemphill, for he will be a strong recruit to the forces which are now making the progress of North Carolina so conspicuous—newspaper progress as well. In his introductory, the Major says:

"The readers of The Observer and The Observer itself are under many obligations to Mr. Theo. F. Kluttz, Jr., the chief editorial writer, to Mr. R. W. Vincent, the managing editor, and the other talented young men who have conducted its course since the master was stricken in the height of his usefulness, and they will stay with it and stay by it in the years that are to come and for many years, it is hoped, to continue their excellent work in which they have proved themselves good workmen."

Quite naturally, we are pleased to know, first hand, that Messrs. Kluttz and Vincent and the other stand-bys are to remain under the new management of the Observer. They have been towers of strength to the paper in the past, and we have wished all along, and also believed, that the old wheel-horses would be left in harness. Editor Kluttz has done arduous and brilliant work in his editorial capacity, and Managing Editor Vincent, a "Wilmington boy," has demonstrated fine capacity and untiring zeal in the responsible position which he has filled.

Do You Feel This Way?

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your lazy liver to work. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. It will purify your blood. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about a cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good." Dr. Pierce's medicines are OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. Their every ingredient printed on their wrappers. Made from roots without alcohol. Contain no habit-forming drugs. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE OUTREACH.

"The Outreach" is a new magazine of forty-eight pages now being issued from the Observer Printing House at Charlotte. The new publication is in the interest of the Southern Industrial Institute, of that progressive city, and its editor is the Rev. J. A. Baldwin, who is the head of a movement there for the educational and technical training of the youth of the disadvantaged class, especially in cotton mill sections. Mr. Baldwin's work is one which strongly appeals to those who love to see betterment along progressive lines, and during the several years of his efforts he has established an institution which he now values at $100,000, in a physical way. In other particulars it is hard to estimate its worth to such a growing and thrifty city as Charlotte. Charlotte has become the industrial hub of the upper South. It is the logical place for such a work as is being done by the Southern Industrial Institute, and from it can radiate an influence and example that must eventually prove of immense importance in the industrial growth of the entire South.

In Wilmington, even though it be November, roses and honeysuckle are still blooming and we are writing this with our window open to the most balmy atmosphere that could possibly be imagined.

The hefty young city of Rock Hill, S. C., is to have a daily paper, to be conducted by Mr. J. T. Fain, lately editor and proprietor of the Greensboro Telegram. He has purchased the semi-weekly Rock Hill Record and will make it a daily. Rock Hill is to be congratulated upon having so capable a newspaper man to come into its midst and The Star hopes Mr. Fain will fully succeed in his enterprise.

CURRENT COMMENT.

With cotton around eight cents, the farmers will not lose much by holding his crop even if he never finds a market for it.—Durham Herald.

Many towns are agitating the matter of a license for automobile drivers with the idea, of course, of shutting out the incompetents. But isn't it a fact that most of the serious accidents occur to machines that are supposed to have expert drivers, or rather men employed for that business?—Durham Herald.

The month of November has arrived and yet we have had no killing frost. Cotton is still blooming in the fields, and many people are still taking from their gardens tomatoes, beans, okra and other vegetables. Isn't it about time now some prophet was rising up and announcing the end of the world again?—Salisbury Post.

The cutting of Confederate pensions by the State of Virginia was one of those blind mishaps that can have no justification, and for the mortification of which there can be no paliation. When did Virginia reach such a stage of poverty that the little pittance to the men, and their widows, who gave themselves and their all to the defense of the State, must be cut? It is a skeleton in the closet of the Commonwealth, and to stir it at all makes a rattle of dry bones that may be heard all over the land. Virginia is prosperous; its revenues increasing by bounds and the pitiful pensions of Confederate veterans cut 10 per cent. A shame!—Richmond Journal.

Despite the low price of cotton and the fact that the farmers are not selling very much of the staple now, our merchants say that business is good. The truth is that a great many of the farmers of Wayne and Duplin have money ahead from their other crops, and are not forced to sacrifice their cotton, which accounts to some extent for the condition of business hereabouts. And this speaks volumes for the diversification plan. Our farmers are blessed beyond measure by reason of the fact that in this imperial agricultural section we produce annually about six money crops.—Mount Olive Tribune.

GREENSBORO AFFAIRS

High Point Negro Arrested—Mr. Justice Returns—Other Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 2.—Zeb Howard, a half-witted negro with a strong tendency to prowl into private houses and to annoy young girls on the streets, was given the maximum sentence of the High Point Recorder's court yesterday on a warrant charging forcible trespass, and today began a 12-month sentence on the Guilford public roads.

President W. W. Finley was here for a short time today, being en route to Washington after a trip of inspection over the lines of the Southern Railway. Mr. Finley talked enthusiastically over the plans of the Southern and prospects of prosperity in all lines of busines in the South.

Considerable interest is felt here in the announcement that the football elevens of Wake Forest and Davidson Colleges will meet here on the afternon of November 11th. It is expected that a large body of students will accompany each eleven to Greensboro and that the day will be made to take the place of the big gathering of Davidson and Wake Forest students each Spring for the past three years upon the occasion of debating contests for the Chamber of Commerce silver cup. This cup was offered for the college winning two of a series of three debates and last year went to Wake Forest.

Hon. E. J. Justice, former speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives, returned yesterday from New York, where he appeared before the United States Circuit Court in behalf of the tobacco growers of North Carolina in resisting the adoption by the court of the proposed plan of dissolution of the American Tobacco Co. Mr. Justice says that it is impossible to foretell just what the court will do; that he doubts if the judges at this time are agreed among themselves. "The proposed plan," he said, "is so clearly an evasion of the law and the decision of the United States Supreme Court that I do not see how it can meet the approval of the court." Referring to Attorney General Wickersham's proposal that the case be kept in the court for a term of years so the defendants could be watched and the plan tried out; and also that the 29 individual defendants be restrained from buying more stock, Mr. Justice said: "Those points are good as far as they go, but the plan will not work well if each of the corporations have the same stockholders, and to this part of the plan Mr. Wickersham agreed."

An interesting event in Salvation Army circles here will occur tonight at Smith Memorial Building when a little boy two years old, will be given away to some one who can best care for him; also will occur the marriage of Captains McKay and Miller. A number of Salvation Army officers arrived this week to attend the wedding, stopping off here en route to Winston-Salem to attend a three days' session of the Army in that city—Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

In appreciation of the splendid concert given here last year the musical faculties of the State Normal and Industrial Colleges have arranged for an informal reception Saturday night complimentary to the members of the Metropolitan Concert troupe. This quartette comes here for a concert Saturday night and immediately following the reception will be held in the rooms of the Elks Club.

REFUSED INVITATION.

To Eat With Rockefeller—Marshal Has One More to See.

New York, Nov. 2.—An invitation to breakfast with a multi-millionaire did not tempt United States Marshal Henkel when he journeyed to Pocanteco Hills today to serve additional papers in the government's suit against the United States Steel Corporation upon John D. Rockefeller and found the oil magnate eating his morning meal. The marshal, when he returned to his office said he had declined the invitation to partake of the meal.

"What was it," he continued. "Now Mr. Rockefeller treated me like a gentleman and it would not be fair to tell what he had to eat, would it?"

"I explained that the paper should have accompanied the previous document and expressed the hope that he was not put out about it.

"'Oh, no, Marshal,' he said, 'I know that you fellows have many vexatious things to do in your line of duty. I admire a man who performs his task well.'

"Now that is the last of the bunch, except the one I have for my friend, Charley Schwab, but there won't be any trouble in serving that."

GRAY HAIR MEANS AGE

Is Your Hair Streaked With Gray—Simple Remedy Restores Color

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant dressing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear.

Don't neglect your hair. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and you will be surprised at the quick results.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MEETING.

For a Clean Civil Government and Overthrow of Liquor.

Chicago, November 2.—Letters approving the purpose of America's young people and encouraging them in their organizing for a clean civic government and the overthrow of the liquor traffic from W. J. Bryan and Governors Noel of Mississippi and Kitchen of North Carolina, were read at the opening of a conference of the organization here today.

Mr. Bryan's read:

"While I am in sympathy with any effort that may be made in the interest of temperance, I am now carrying too many burdens to permit me to take up any additional work for the present. I have not felt that I ought to be conencted with an enterprise unless I am in a position to give time to it."

Governor Kitchin wrote:

"The temperance conference by America's young people to be held in Chicago has my best wishes."

Governor Noel wrote:

"I thoroughly am in accord with the American young people's good government movement. It will afford me pleasure to help it in any way that I can. We need a movement of that kind."

The Rev. Charles D. Bulla, head of the Adult Bible Class Department of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will preside over the closing session tomorrow.

Lacked Confidence Still It Helped

Happy Experiences of Rigeley Lady, Who Describes Her Own Narrow Escape from Death

Ridgeley, Tenn.—Mrs. Jennie Estes, of this place, writes: "I want to say something good for Cardui. I can't begin to say enough. I was sick abed with womanly troubles, from February until October, and was in very bad condition. The doctor came to see me, three or four times a week, but he did me no good. One day, I thought I would give Cardui a trial. I had no confidence in it, at all, but I bought a bottle. In a few days I was up and doing my housework. Now, I have gained 15 pounds, and am feeling as well as I ever felt in my life. If it had not been for Cardui, I honestly believe I would have been in my grave. I advise all sick and suffering women to take Cardui. It cured me when all other medicines failed."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. Estes, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui. Such testimony from those who have tried and know Cardui, surely indicates the value of this reliable woman's remedy."

For quick relief from all forms of womanly trouble, Cardui is the medicine you need. Try it.

CITY LIVERY COMPANY

BRIEF SESSION OF COUNCIL

Contract for Overcoats Awarded the Only Definite Action, But Several Matters Were Discussed at Meeting.

The City Council held one of the briefest sessions on record yesterday morning. The body convened at 10 o'clock for the primary object of awarding the contract for furnishing a number of overcoats for the police department, the lone bid for which was opened Wednesday, and this was the only matter upon which action was taken, though several other matters were discussed.

Mayor Smith presided and all members were in attendance except Councilman B. C. Moore, who is spending the week out of the city. Present also were Capt. Thos. D. Meares, the clerk, and Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau. The contract for the overcoats was given to Mr. J. W. H. Fuchs at $22.50 apiece. His was the only bid submitted and, of course, there was nothing for the Council to do but to give him the contract, unless it should have been deemed best to advertise again for bids. Mr. Fuchs has the contract for the Winter uniforms of both the police and firemen, which are expected to arrive in a short time now. Not all of the police officers will need new overcoats this season, as some have had their old ones worked over by a tailor and they will be serviceable again this Winter, leaving only 12 or 14 new ones to be purchased. Mr. Fuchs will also furnish the caps for the officers.

Copies of the official papers in the proposed transfer of the sewerage plant from the bondholders to the city of Wilmington, as drafted by Mr. J. W. E. Brown, the attorney for the bondholders, of Philadelphia, were submitted for the consideration of the Councilmen. The matter did not come up for action at this meeting. There is only one question now that the city and bondholders have not agreed upon and that is whether the contract for the contemplated improvements of the system shall be paid in bonds, or in cash. The Council at its meeting Tuesday decided that no reference to payment in bonds be made in the advertisement for bids. The bondholders will insist that they be allowed to insert that provision in the advertisement. When the matter comes up formally for consideration it is likely that some adjustment of the difference will be agreed upon.

Mayor Smith brought to the attention of the body the proposition to minimize the Sunday selling in the city, especially of fruits, candies, etc. He urged that the Council not take any hasty action in so important a matter, but that all give the question careful consideration between then and the next regular meeting, when the matter is scheduled to come up for action. The Mayor said that as he understood it there is no desire on the part of the Council to pass any law or enforce any measure that will be a hardship, or be an injustice, to any one, similar views, through Councilman Perdew again referred to the comments he had heard about the large amount of traffic carried on in the city on Sundays. It appeared from the discussion that no radical measures are contemplated by the Council.

However, there is one thing that Council proposes to break up and that is the congregating of persons in front of drug stores, restaurants, etc., on Sundays. One member of the Council remarked that many complaints had been received about crowds in front of places, both in the down-town and outlying districts and it was suggested that Mayor Smith have the chief of police instruct his men to look for such gatherings and disperse the crowds. Mayor Smith said that he would attend to the matter right away so the officers can be on the lookout Sunday. It is believed that the rigid enforcement of this rule will go a long ways toward the elimination of cause for complaint about the sale of things on Sunday.

Councilman Perdew remarked at the meeting that at the next regular meeting he will bring up the question of requiring telegraph and telephone wires along Front street to be placed underground, or that ornamental metal poles to support the wires be installed. Most of the telegraph wires in the down-town district are already underground, it has been stated. The matter has been suggested in connection with the improvement of Front street, which work will begin within a few weeks, it is thought. Many people deem the poles and wires as rather unsightly and feel that now on the eve of the great improvement of the thoroughfare is the proper time to require that wires go underground, or at least the wooden poles be done away with. Council did not say anything about causing the Tidewater Power Company to place its poles underground on Front street and it is not likely that this will be required, even if the other poles are removed.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BOLTON

Laid to Rest in Bellevue Cemetery Yesterday Afternoon

The funeral of Mrs. Leslie J. Bolton, wife of the late Mr. E. W. Bolton, whose death occurred Wednesday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Russ, No. 220 Wright street, was held from the residence yester day afternoon at 4 o'clock, the rites being conducted by Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church. Interment was made in Bellevue.

Many sorrowing friends attended the services at the home and the cemetery and paid their last tribute of respect to the memory of the estimable woman who had been called to her Master. The pall-bearers were: J. P. Montgomery, Thos. Lossen, H M. McMillan and William Landing.

BEGIN BUSINESS DEC. 1ST.

Home Savings Bank Getting Ready to Open—Safe Has Been Ordered. May Elect Cashier This Afternoon.

The directors of the Home Savings Bank, Wilmington's new financial institution, have voted to begin business on December 1st in a building probably to be definitely decided upon at a meeting this afternoon. It is expected that at this meeting a cashier of the institution will be elected and other preliminary arrangements incident to beginning business at the time specified will be made. A suitable safe has already been ordered and the directors have also taken up the matter of fixtures.

Notices have been mailed to the subscribers to stock notifying them that the directors had held a meeting and made an allotment of stock and that 50 per cent. of the amount allotted would be payable on or before November 10th and the balance on or before November 29th. The stock was greatly over-subscribed and it was necessary to scale down the subscriptions, which many subscribers regretted, as they wanted the full amount subscribed. Joseph W. Little, Esq., vice president and attorney, is already receiving checks in payment of the amount of the subscriptions. It is the purpose of the directors to begin business December 1st and the institution bids fair to receive its share of the savings bank business.

60 DAYS OF GRACE NOW UP.

No Attempt to Enforce Sanitary Can Ordinance as Yet.

Though the period of 60 days of grace which the City Council granted the public when the sanitary can agitation was at its height, by suspending the workings of the ordinance compelling the installation of the cans, came to an end on November 1st, as yet the city health department is making no effort to enforce the act. The officials are waiting until the sewerage matter is finally settled and the title of the plant is placed in the city's hands before making or carrying out any further plans.

When the city takes over the sewerage plan and decides finally on what districts shall be given sewerage connections, it is likely that the health department will then lay its plans for the installation in all sections which do not have access to sewerage connections, but until that time they will rest on their oars.

However, the cans are being installed regularly for there is a steady demand for them by citizens in the districts which do not have access to sewerage connections. The health department reports orders for the cans almost every day, and the large number that are already in use are giving perfect satisfaction, at least to a great many of their users.

Wilmington is not alone in its war on unsanitary conditions and its abolishment of the surface closet, for Raleigh recently passed an ordinance creating a sanitary district covering a large section of the city, making it unlawful for a property owner to construct, maintain or allow on his premises any closet of the kind unless the same is connected with the city sewer.

Held Yesterday from His Late Residence on Queen Street

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock the funeral of Mr. Alexander S Mott, whose death occurred Wednesday afternoon, was held from the late residence, No. 512 Queen street, attended by quite an assemblage of sorrowing friends and relatives. Rev. J. W. S. Harvey, pastor of Fifth Street Advent Church, conducted the services and the interment was made in Bellevue cemetery. The pall-bearers were: O. M. Hill, S. J. Bryan, A. H. Leslie, Archie Marine, B. T. Burns and W. L. Thorp.

MRS. GODFREY WELL AGAIN.

Vineland, N. J.—Mrs. Allen T. Godfrew, who has been in bad health for some time, has just written the following letter telling of her recovery:

"Everyone who is in broken health ought to know that Vinol will build them up and make them strong. It restored my strength and vigor after I had been in a badly run-down condition for several months, and I never fail to give Vinol a good word now."

This is one more proof that our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, which is free from cod liver oil, is a remarkably strengthening and vitalizing medicine.

Men and women who are weak and in poor health, unable to sleep or eat well, and who have given up hope of ever being strong again should certainly take Vinol, without waiting another day, for it is exactly what they need.

There is no risk at all, for it is so sure to do good that we guarantee it absolutely and will refund the money if you are not satisfied. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

FAIR AND COLDER

Decided Drop in Temperature Yesterday—Frost Predicted Today

The marked high pressure area and cold wave over the bleak northwest from which came yesterday reports of zero temperatures, extended to the South Atlantic coast yesterday and Wilmington for the once again this Fall shivered under a minimum temperature of 49 degrees. The conditions indicate fair and colder weather today with heavy frost this morning, special warnings of which were sent out yesterday by Observer Felger, of the local Weather Bureau. The maximum temperatureyesterday was 64 degrees, but in the early afternoon the cold wave began to be felt and before nightfall wraps and overcoats were decidedly comfortable. Moderate to brisk northerly winds are promised until there is a moderation of present temperatures.

CAROLINA FRANCHISE VACANT

Wilmington Now Has Opportunity to Get Berth In The Proposed New State Baseball League—The Prospects

For several years there has been manifest in Wilmington a spirit to gain admittance to the Carolina Baseball Association when opportunity presented itself, and now the way seems clear for the first time. The South Carolina towns in the league have indicated their intention of dropping from the roll of the association, and, if the fans of this burg want to see a high-class of organized baseball next year, concerted action on their part may put this city in a league with Charlotte, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Raleigh and Durham.

The composition of the Carolina League for next season is a question that is exciting considerable speculation on the part of those closely allied with the organization. According to the rule enacted at the Fall meeting of the directors, it was incumbent upon all clubs desiring to hold their franchise for the coming year to deposit $500 on October 15th and another $500 on November 1st, making a total of $1,000 in all. To date the three South Carolina clubs, namely, Anderson, Greenville and Spartanburg, have done nothing towards making this deposit, and hence, under the by-laws, their franchises are at the disposal of the league. The three Tar Heel towns, Charlotte, Greensboro and Winston-Salem, have forwarded their deposits and there is nothing now to prevent the formation of a State League with six North Carolina towns in it.

Inquiries have reached the league officials from Wilmington, Raleigh, Durham, Asheville, Salisbury-Spencer, Fayetteville, Wilson and Statesville. Wilmington, Raleigh and Durham are said to be the most desirable applicants, however, and these cities may gain franchises by immediate action. The league officials, of course, will not assure this, but it is stated by one in close touch with the situation that applications from these cities would be given preference over the others.

Raleigh some time ago proclaimed her readiness to enter the Carolina Lague at any time she was given an opportunity, and it is almost certain that a deposit will be forthcoming at once now that the coast is clear, and the same may be said of Durham, which has wanted a berth in an organized league for several years. If Wilmington wants the other one, now is the time to act, as failing to awake any local enthusiasm at an early date, the vacant franchise will be proffered to one of the other towns mentioned, all of which are eagerly clamoring for a seat on the band wagon. Now is the time to act; if the fans want ball, let them make it known.

TROUBLES BEGAN EARLY

Negro On Way to Get Married Falls Into Clutches of Law

Reuben Green, colored, on his way to wed the dusky maid of his choice, ran afoul of a group of his colored companions Wednesday night and their hilarious jests at his expense so enraged him that his loud and boisterous comment upon the revellers and their ancestry only ceased when one of the officers of the police force placed him under arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct and took him to the police station. Had it not been for a kindly disposed white citizen who bailed the unlucky fellow out he would have been in a dilemma indeed. However, he went his way smiling and was duly wedded to the object of his affections.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning he was fined $10 and costs and allowed to go in peace, if such is the portion of a married man.

Only one other case was on the docket and the defendant in this, R. Richmond, a white man, charged with disorderly conduct, who had been recognized for his appearance, failed to show up. Recorder Furlong issued a capias for the man, but he came in a short while later and explained that he had overslept himself. Clerk of the Recorder's court Fred T. Skipper, recognized him to appear at this morning's session.

JUDGE LONG A CANDIDATE

Statesville Jurist Aspires to Supreme Court Bench

A Wilmington lawyer who has just returned to the city from the western part of the State brings the information that Judge B. F. Long, of Statesville, is a candidate for Associate Justice of the State Supreme Court now held by Judge Geo. H. Brown. The election is about a year off and the convention is some nine months in the future yet the friends of Judge Long are already putting forth a strong effort in his behalf. He is one of the best known Superior Court judges in the State and is considered one of the ablest on the bench in North Carolina.

THE THIN AND WEAK.

Easy Way for Them to Get Strong and Fat.

To thin and weak, J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., has a word to say. Let them use Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, that is now so popular, and they will soon be plump and rosy.

Samose is not an ordinary medicine; it is a flesh-forming food that is adapted to the most delicate. Its tonic effect gives strength and health so that after its use for a short time, all the flesh and fat producing elements in the food will be easily assimilated and retained by the body.

The large sale druggists J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., have had on Samose since they first introduced it in Wilmington and the wonderful results following its use have made them such enthusiastic believers in its great merits, that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose does not make thin people fat and restore strength and health.

THE POISONING CASE.

Contents of Stomach to be Sent to the State Chemist.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 2.—The body of Mrs. Edgar Thompson will be taken up today, the stomach removed and an autopsy made. Dr. H. B. Maxwell, county physician, was seen this morning and made this statement. It is understood that the attorneys representing Thompson will insist on having the contents of the stomach sent on to the State chemist for analysis, if there is the slightest doubt expressed about there being signs of poison. If this is done, it will be some time before the coroner's jury can decide on a report. The general impression here is that Mrs. Thompson's mind was affected and her charges against her husband were the ravings of a crazed woman.

As the body is badly decayed, the work of the physicians will be a most unpleasant one. There are all kinds of stories in circulation about the woman's death, and of course, there are two sides, one contending that Edgar Thompson is innocent of harming his wife and the other asserting their belief that the woman was poisoned.

Washington, Nov. 2.—"Footprint" and "Vestibule" are the names of two stallions, presented to the War Department for breeding purposes by August Belmont. They will be sent immediately to the army's breeding farm at Front Royal, Va. Both horses were sired by Mr. Belmont's $150,000 prize stallion Rocksand. Altogether, four horses have been presented to the government by the New York millionaire.

PRETTY WEDDING SERVICE AT CLARKTON WEDNESDAY

Clarkton, N. C., Nov. 2.—One of the most charming weddings which has ever occurred in Clarkton was that of Miss Hattie Custis Cromartie, who, on Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, became the bride of Mr. James Daniel Campbell, formerly of Aberdeen, but now of Fayetteville, N. C.

The church for this occasion was artistically decorated with palms, ferns, Southern smilax and cut flowers, the color scheme of pink and white being attractively carried out.

Long before the appointed hour, the church was filled with admiring friends and relatives of the bride and groom. Preceding the entrance of the bridal party, "The Wedding Morn" was admirably rendered by a choir composed of Mrs. Neill Currie, Mrs. O. L. Clark, Mrs. E. C. Clark, Mrs. Joseph Russ, Mrs. Frank Harrington, Misses Annie Neol Clark, Rosalie Clark, Annie Burney, Laura Dell Clark, Amanda Clark and Miss Carolyn Duffy, of Wilmington. Mrs. Conley Stegall, who is a musician of marked ability, accompanied on the piano. Miss Annie Neal Clark, who possess an unusually beautiful voice, sang with charming effect, "O Perfect Love."

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelsshon's Wedding March, in the following manner. Miss Laura Compbell, of Aberdeen, Mr. Clarence Clark, Miss Amelia Wooten, Mr. W. N. Cox, Miss Kittie Clark, Dr. Leslie B. Evans, Miss Mable Clark, of Beaufort, Mr. Conley Stegall. The bridesmaids were gowned in white lingerie over white messaline and carried arm bouquets of pink carnations. Miss Isabelle Cromartie, the maid of honor, next entered. She was lovely in pink messaline, carrying white roses. Next came the little ring-bearer, Master Conrad Clark, the attractive young son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Clark. Then followed the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. Martin Cromartie. She was exquisitely gowned in white silk chiffon over satin, with tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms and wearing a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom, and carrying bride's roses. She was met at the altar by the groom who entered with his best man, Mr. Snowden Singletary, and stood in the center of a semi-circle formed by the wedding party, while the marriage vows were spoken by Rev. Byron Clark, of Salisbury, an uncle of the groom, the beautiful ring service being used.

Immediately following th wedding, the bridal party was entertained at the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Clark, where good wishes were showered upon the happy ones. After a brief reception, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left on the night train for Fayetteville, which city will be their future home. Miss Cromartie is one of the most popular young ladies in Bladen county, being loved and admired for her winning manner and sweet and happy disposition. Mr. Campbell who is a young man of sterling worth, is to be congratulated upon winning so fair a bride.

The out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mrs. A. B. McAuly, of Cronly; Mrs. Roscoe Thomas, Seattle, Washington; Miss Mable Clark, Beaufort, N. C.; Miss Maggie Cromartie, Garland; Mrs. James Wooten, Cronly, N. C.; Miss Maimie Campbell, Aberdeen, and Miss Carolyn Duffy, of Wilmington.

CLARENCE OUSLEY SPEAKS.

In Reply to Comments of Secretary of Agriculture.

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 2.—Clarence Ousley, editor of the Fort Worth Record, replying to the comments of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Census Director Durand as to Mr. Ousley's address before the recent cotton conference at New Orleans, declared in a statement issued tonight that either the secretary and the director were misinformed as to what he said, or "they are not frank in the subject of reporting cotton consumption and cotton trade information."

Mr. Ousley declares that he does not complain of cotton crop reporting by the government, but that he approves of it as a means of correcting errors and misrepresentations of "so-called experts who magnify it in the interest of spinners." Reports of the spindle demand in November is of no value to the farmers who have sold before that time, he points out and urges periodical reporting of consumption and trade conditions. The farmers want earlier reports of demand," he continued. "They want additional reports of trade conditions from month to month just as spinners have reports of averages followed by reports of condition every month. Mr. Durand last November reported a demand of 13,000,000 bales. Now the demand is shown to be 13,739,000 bales. Meanwhile, the farmers have sold most of the crop.

"The present system in effect is a gambler's trick whereby the farmers' hand is mirrored by crop reporting to the spinners' view, while the spinners' hand is concealed until the crop is sold."

..Theatrical..

One of the finest musical events it has been the pleasure of Wilmington people to enjoy in a long time was presented at the Academy of Music last night when a concert was given by the United States Marine Band at the Academy of Music. There was only a small audience, but it was an appreciative one as shown by the vigorus applause which followed each number. The applause was so great following several renditions that the musicians were forced to respond to an encore and several times just one number as an encore would not suffice. The attraction deserved a crowded house.

"Beverly" Twice Tomorrow

Tomorrow, at matinee and night, the Academy will offer a decidedly popular attraction in "Beverly of Graustark," and the matinee is to be made a decidedly attractive occasion, being designated as a "bargain affair" which means that the prices will be 25 and 50 cents. At night the prices will range only to $1 save for box seats. There will aslo be 75 cents seats downstairs. Seats for the night performance will go on sale at Plummer's this morning. The matinee tickets can be purchased only at the theatre.

When A. G. Delamater and William Norris entered into a partnership last year for the purpose of making high-class theatrical productions, it seemed an ideal arrangement, as both of the gentlemen have an enviable reputation in the theatrical world. William Norris is perhaps the most versatile actor on the American stage, for during the past few years he has conclusively proven that he is equally at home in comedy, drama, opera or tragedy, and flits from one to the other with the most consummate ease. He is the creator of King Dode, the Burgomaster, Alan in "Babes in Toyland," the leading comedy roles in "Tom Jones," "The Cingalee," and other famous musical comedy and comic opera productions, and is this season the star of "The King of Cadonia." He has also scored emphatically in several strong dramatic roles including the jester with Viola Allen in "The Palace of the King," and as Pinchas in "The Children of the Ghetto." He is also a well-known art connoisseur and collector, consequently it is only natural that he should give the Delamater and Norris productions the artistic touch so noticeable in George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly." Mr. Delamater is a young and progressive manager who has had long experience in the management of leading musical and dramatic organizations, have been strongly identified with and largely responsible for the success of Fred C. Whitney's numerous attractions for a number of years, and the trade mark of A. G. Delamater and Wm. Norris, Inc., should be a sufficient guarantee of the merit of any production which they may send out.

"The Rosary."

This beautiful new play, "The Rosary," under the direction of Rowland & Clifford, will be presented at the Academy next Wednesday, matinee and night.

What is the cause of marital unrest? Why is it that the percentage of divorce cases rises steadily every year in the United States? Why should it be that today—tomorrow you may meet your happily married friend, and in response to your question regarding his wife, he shakes his head and replies, "divorced!"

Why should all this be?

These are questions that the ablest minds have wrestled with for the past decade without even a mediocre answer. But the question will not down; it confronts every thinking man and woman over and over again. Legal brains have tried to reply; orators have used their eloquence; the papers have printed reams of matter and the pulpit has thundered its fulminations. Still the question remains unanswered—unsolved.

Now comes a modern play ensuing a drama called "The Rosary," written by Edward E. Rose and produced by the well-known theatrical managers, Messrs. Rowland & Clifford. Quietly and modestly, with no blaze of trumpets, it projects a quiet word into this turmoil of opinions, which many believe will revolutionize our ethics of marriage and divorce.

"Look within," it says. "Look into the hearts and souls of our men and women today. See if there be within the same rugged faith that carried a republic from the wilderness and raised above it our Stars and Stripes. Search for the abiding reliance on things unseen, which forever held up our pioneers when they faltered under privation, dangers and hardships."

At The Grand.

The big feature film at the Grand today will be "The Cross of Pearls," in which the wicked defiant smile of Gabriel strikes to the very soul of the Padre for the latter cannot reveal the secrets of the Confessional, though it be to save his own brother's life. But conscience strikes deeper and the dastard suffers untold agony lest an innocent man be punished for his crime. In addition to this film there will be two others, one of them a Western drama, excellently played, and entitled "Redemption." The house is comfortably warm, well ventilated and it is a pleasure to occupy a seat in the auditorium of this favorite amusement palace.

At the Bijou

Another big day was recorded for the Bijou yesterday. The large audiences not only found a warm reception and a "warm number" show, but found delightful warmth inside the Bijou from the very chill weather. This is one of the chief attractions of the popular Bijou—it is comfortable no matter the style of the weather. In fact, hundreds of the Bijou devotees have commenced to designate it as the "cosy amusement spot." The show yesterday was a corker, both for laughs and for heart throbs. Today's bill is going to be another fine one. It will be giant both as to size and merit, and it will be bright enough to expel instanter any dreary feeling, and all who attend may rest assured also of finding a warm place. The Bijou never slights people on account of the tail-end of the week; hence, the closing days of every week find just as big and meritorious bills on tap as are presented in the first part of the week.

LEE O'NEIL BROWN WITNESS

Yesterday Before the Senators Investigating the Lorimer Election

Chicago Nov. 2.—Lee O'Neil Brown of Ottawa, Ill., former minority leader in the State Legislature, was a witness today before the committee of United States Senators investigating the Lorimer election.

A child-like faith in the tenets of friendship and a lack of knowledge of the devious ways of plays, said Brown, led me to believe that Speaker Shurtleff favored me as a minority leader for the Forty-sixth General Assembly. I have heard since, however, that he feared that with my sixty-four followers and conditions as they were on the Republican side, that I might become the real Speaker of the House."

Brown said he first met Charles A. White about a month before the Legislature convened at Springfield in January, 1909.

Brown said Edward D. Shurtleff's election as Speaker was due entirely to Shurtleff's fairness and reputation for consideration of Democratic members.

Taking up committe chairmanship and salaried positions in the House, Browne said there was a so-called gentleman's agreement or understanding by which the Democratic side was to get its share.

Speaker Shurtleff, Representative David E. Shanahan, of Chicago; Representative John J. McLaughlin, of Chicago, and I arranged the distribution of this patronage, said Brown.

REPAIR HYDRO-AEROPLANE

Two Naval Aviators Were Forced to Land—Have Repaired Machine

Newport News, Va., Nov. 2.—According to reports brought to Old Point today, Lieutenants Ellyson and Tower, the naval aviators who were forced to land at Crab Neck Monday on their attempted return flight to Annapolis, are now at Glouchester Point. Their hydroaeroplane has been refitted with new batteries and several short flights were made yesterday with the object of repairing the engine before resuming their flight today. However, a stiff northeast wind prevented the aviators from starting today. Numerous reports concerning the young naval officers were circulated today, one of which was that they had decided to abandon their flight and ship the machine to Annapolis from Oriana; another was that they had reached Reidsville and still another that the hydro on the machinue is leaking badly.

Captain Jenkins, of the fishing boat Bena, who towed the machine to shore after it had landed in the bay Monday, was at Old Point today and states that the aviators are at Glouchester Point, Va.

New York, November 2.—An early advance in the cotton market on unfavorable weather reports from the South was followed by a sharp break, owing to bearish private ginning reports, but the market steadied up again in the later trading and the close was very steady, at a net advance of 8 points on October, while other positions were 3 points higher to 1 point lower, as compared with the closing figures of yesterday.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3@6 points in response to higher cables than looked for and reports of cold weather in the South, with snow in some sections of both Texas and Oklahoma. Offerings were heavy at the advance, including apparently a good deal of Southern selling and right after the call prices weakened under these offerings, combined with local bear pressure, and scattering liquidation by recent buyers. The western belt forecast for continued cold weather seemed to attract no special attention and following reports that returns to the National Ginners' Association indicated practically 10,000,000 bales ginned to November 1, the market sold off to a net loss of 8@12 points, with May deliveries making a new low record for the season. Unfavorable trade accounts from China with private cables reporting that the cotton yarn guilds at Shanghai had authorized the repudiation of contracts owing to the revolution, may have added something to the confidence of local sellers but around 8.90 for January a good demand developed and the market later rallied several points from the lowest on covering by early sellers, and buying by spot people which some attributed partly to spinners. Closing prices were within a point of last night's figures on most of the active months. The wintry conditions reported in the South and the firmer tone of the Liverpool market appeared to be practically offset in the immediate market by the ginnings markets and large private estimates of the crop which tended to confirm local traders there in a belief that such a large surplus has already been assured that the character of the weather for the balance of the season is of comparatively little importance. The support which developed around 8.90 for January, however, seemed to be of a pretty good character and the day's fluctuations, as a whole, suggested more or less nervousness or uncertainty pending fresh developments in the interior spot market.

Receipts today, 51,947, against 91,366 last week and 57,855 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 5,061, against 12,843 last year, and at Houston 17,333, against 13,430 last year.

Spot cotton closed dull. Middling uplands, 9.40; do. gulf, 9.65; no sales.

Futures closed very steady.

ALLEGED CORNER OF WHEAT

Centered at Chicago Being Investigated—In Last Few Minutes Trading, Market Broke Nearly Two Cents.

Chicago, November 2.—Any man or set of men who buy so much grain that the price is held out of line or out of reach of buyers may be considered as acting in restraint of trade. That is the basis upon which, in the opinion of President J. C. F. Merrill, of the Chicago Board of Trade, and agents of the Department of Justice are working in the correction of an alleged corner in wheat, centered at Chicago and extending from Duluth and Minneapolis to the Seaboard.

Although declaring no investigation of the Chicago Board of Trade itself is under way to the best of his knowledge, President Merrill tonight said, significantly:

"I do know that the Federal agents who were in LaSalle street Tuesday went to the Northwestern markets yesterday. This makes it look as if the Department of Justice at Washington considered there was some understanding between big wheat owners here and at other centers. So far as the Board of Trade as an organization is concerned, all is serene."

Rumors were current this evening that a former stenographer of the weigh master's office of the board had given evidence to the government. According to reports, the source of which is not disclosed, sixty per cent. of the country's wheat supply is controlled by an illegal combination of dealers, and 17,000,000 bushels of the total holdings of the clique are in Chicago grain elevators.

Threats that warehouse receipts for millions of bushels in store here might be seized as evidence in a conspiracy trial had a paralyzing effect on 'change today. In the last few minutes of trading the market broke nearly 2 cents from top figures, and closed in a whirl of excited selling within ¼c. of the lowest point of the day, 95⅝ for December.

A statement was made tonight that the Armour Grain Company perfected a deal by which millions of bushels were transferred to a group of milling interests, the millers, it was said, being allowed to remove the grain ground from the Armour warehouses when convenient. One theory is that the government proceedings were originally started with a view to heading off such a mammoth transfer.

President George E. Mary, of the Armour Grain Company, said:

"The government is welcome to any information concerning our business which we have. All any agent of the government needs to do is to tell us what he wants and we will give it to him, if we have it. As for swooping down on us to seize our warehouse certificates, that is absurd and unfounded. The certificates are on file with the State grain inspector. There is no necessity for any spectacular seizure."

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, November 2.—Interest in the large auction sale of carpets was continued as well during the day as on the first two days of the distribution. Cotton goods are quiet and fairly steady. Dress goods for spot delivery are in steady demand and there is a firm spot trade in men's wear for quick shipment. Yarns rule quiet, with some large orders in combed yarns pending.

ADVANCE IN STOCK MARKET

Buying for the Long Account Was Resumed in an Aggressive Way—777,700 shares Were Sold. Yesterday.

New York, November 2.—The advance in stocks which proceeded vigorously yesterday, was continued during the greater part of today's trading. Buying for the long account was resumed in an aggressive way and there was further extensive covering of short contracts. Prices of most of the active stocks were elevated a point or two, after an early period of hesitation. But the range of quotations thus established represented such an unusual gain in the last two days, and the profits to be had were so alluring to bull traders that realizing sales were conducted on a heavy scale. The market wavered and then, late in the afternoon, broke, losing the greater part of the day's gains. Some of the active issues, including United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper, St. Paul, the Hill stocks, Reading and Canadian Pacific closed with small net losses.

The reaction from the top prices of the day was regarded as only a natural movement, after the rapid rise, and apparently did not shake the confidence of the bull party. The completeness of the change in the character of the market, nevertheless, indicated that the buying had been largely of a professional character, so that the list was left without effective support when realizing was in progress.

American Smelting was the conspicuously strong stock in the list. It rose 3⅝ points to 68⅝.

The extensive rise in this issue seemed to be due largely to the rout of the short interest, which is reported to have reached unusually large proportions.

Trading in United States Steel was on a considerably smaller scale. The industrials as a whole showed more instances of pronounced strength than did the railroad list, owing, perhaps, to the frequency of reports of improving trade conditions. These reports have aroused hopes of a general, steady change for the better.

Money rates were somewhat easier today. The banks thus far this week have lost $6,362,000.

Bonds were firm. American Tobacco issues showed weakness for a time, but the 6s later rose to above 115. Total sales, par value, $4,524,000. United States bonds declined ½c. on call.

Total sales of stocks, for the day, 777,700 shares.

AGAIN HEADS W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Lillian Stevens Re-elected President of National Temperance Order.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—Aside from the re-election of Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens as leader of the hosts of the Woman's Temperance Workers, together with her last year's associates, the feature of today's sessions of the National W. C. T. U. convention was a symposium on the question of equal suffrage.

Mrs. Hester T. Griffith told of the suffrage victory in California. Credit was given newspapers for their support, and the "good men of California for the splendid help in securing justice and human rights."

The convention created a new department today, that of press bureau, Mrs. Minnie B. Horning, of Illinois, being elected superintendent.

Mrs. Harriett S. Pritchard, of New York, was elected superintendent of the department of purity in literature and art.

A resolution was adopted memorializing Congress to pass a bill already passed twice by the Senate, appropriating $66,000 for the return of private subscriptions for the ransom of Miss Ellen M. Stone from brigands of Turkey.

Mrs. E. B. Ingalls, of St. Louis, Mo., National superintendent of the Department of Anti-Narcotics, Womans Christian Temperance Union, purchased a package of cigarettes here today. She then went to the City Hall and called on Mayor Seidel.

"Why cannot Wisconsin's anti-cigarette law be enforced in this city?" she asked.

The mayor referred her to the chief of police.

When Mrs. Ingalls called upon Chief of Police Janssen, she was informed that his officers would look after any violations of the law.

"A continual advance is being made toward world-wide peace," reported Mrs. Bailey, of Maine, speaking for the peace department.

The convention adjourned to meet in Portland, Ore., next year.

MAJORITY OF TWENTY-SIX

Votes for the Repeal of Amendment in Maine

Augusta, Maine., Nov. 2.—The question whether the proclamation of Governor Plaisted making known the result of the September election on the repeal of the prohibition clause of the State constitution may be issued before December 1st, the legal time limit for such action, could not be determined from information obtainable at the State House today. The question whether the returns from four towns shall stand as reported or whether they shall be corrected in accordance with the evidence that the figures are erroneous is still under consideration and none of the officials would today say whether action would be taken at the next meeting of the Governor and council on November 16th.

As the matter stands the official returns canvassed by the Governor and council give a majority of 23 votes for the repeal of the amendment. If the returns alleged to be erroneous are accepted as corrected, a majority of 759 against repeal would result.

The possibility that the courts may be asked to pass upon the questioned returns has been suggested. Such a step would introduce a third alternative inasmuch as the courts, it is said, could declare the disputed figures void and order them stricken from the tables. Such a step would bring about a majority of 366 against repeal.

DESCENDS FOR GASOLINE

Coast-to-Coast Aviator Forced to Make Landing When Gasoline Gives Out

Yuma, Ariz., Nov. 2.—Aviator C. P. Rodgers, in his coast-to-coast flight was compelled to alight on the Arizona desert, sixty miles east of here this afternoon because he ran out of gasoline.

Rodgers will resume his westward flight early tomorrow with Yuma as his first stopping place. Rodgers' gasoline tank will carry a supply sufficient for about 200 miles, but he tried to do more than that distance. Leaving Maricopa early, he started for Phoenix, going first over Tempe, a distance of 33 miles. He arrived at Phoenix at 10:30 o'clock and after a flight around the city, resumed his journey, announcing he would make Yuma before night. Yuma, however, was more than 200 miles away.

Rodgers flew directly over the mountains at an altitude of about 3,500 feet instead of going back to Tempe and following the easier route down the Southern Pacific tracks. His start from Phoenix was the last heard of him as he probably flew too high to be seen from watering stations on the desert until word came to Yuma that he had landed at Stoval Siding. He had covered about 225 miles today.

TO "COMMIT MATRIMONY."

South Carolina Minister Gets Into Trouble at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 2.—The Rev. W. C. Ferrell, a Methodist minister who came here recently from Gaffney, S. C., was arrested and placed in jail here yesterday as a result of his having written to a young woman of this city a letter in which he asked to make her acquaintance with a view to "commit matrimony." When given a hearing in police court the minister admitted authorship of the letter, but the case was dismissed, the judge saying he knew of no law which the minister had violated.

The arrest was made by detectives who accompanied the young woman to the place designated in the letter as the place of meeting. The minister described himself in the letter as an "English gentleman romantically inclined," but he told the court he had never lived in England.

Henson, Ariz., November 2.—Robert G. Fowler, who is eastward bound on his trans-continental aeroplane flight, arrived at Benson at 4:20 this afternoon. Leaving Tucson at 2:15, he immediately "bucked" into a strong head wind which continued throughout his flight of two hours and five minutes. He will resume his flight tomorrew.

PROSPECTS ARE DECEPTIVE

Mr. Bryan, in Speech Says That Has Been His Experience

Kansas City, Nov. 2.—Although prospects for a Democratic victory in the next National election are bright, said William J. Bryan in the address of Joseph J. Taggart's candidacy for Congress to succeed the late Congressman Mitchell, in Kansas City, tonight: "I have seen them brighter. If the Republicans must elect a President, I want to see them elect a progressive. Such a man is Senator LaFollette."

Mr. Bryan spoke to a large crowd in Kansas City.

"If I were right sure the Democrats would elect their candidate for President the next time, I would not care about the Republican candidate," said Mr. Bryan. "Although prospects are bright for a Democratic President it has been my experience that prospects are deceptive."

Mr. Bryan said: "LaFollette is a real progressive. I would like to see him nominated by the Republicans, I believe he would poll more votes than President Taft."

REVIEW AT LOS ANGELES.

Oregon is Center of Interest Among Pacific Fleet Vessels.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 2.—The roar of naval guns announced today the review of the Pacific fleet, the companion piece of the big display of the Atlantic fleet on the other side of the continent.

The fleet, 24 ships in all, with two submarines, arrived off Los Angeles harbor before dawn, and daylight revealed one of the greatest aggregations of warships ever assembled on the Pacific coast. The sea fighters stretched from a point opposite San Pedro to Longbeach, seven miles away. Conspicuous in the line was the famous old warrior, Oregon, refurnished and given a family resemblance to her younger sisters by her big military mast.

The Oregon is the only battleship—heavily armed and armored—among all the 24 vessels, and the old ship was the center of interest.

FIRE NEAR SPENCER.

Store and Stock at Granite Quarry Destroyed Yesterday Morning.

Spencer, N. C., Nov. 2.—Fire of an unknown origin was discovered in the rear of Mr. T. J. Lyerly's store in Granite Quarry, last night at 10:30 and lasted for two hours, burning the store together with Mr. Lyerly's residence, the residence of Mr. George Dry and the Methodist church.

Mr. Lyerly's loss will be $5,600 with but $2,400 insurance. Mr. Dry's loss is estimated at $1,200, with no insurance. The Methodist church, valued at $2,000 entirely destroyed, with no insurance.

There is no fire company nor water protection in Granite Quarry, thus giving the flames full sway. Parties entering Mr. Lyerly's store found the front door open and the combination knocked off the safe, but could find no other clue as to the origin of the fire.

STUDY FINANCIAL PLAN

Newly Made Voters in San Francisco Grappling With Problems

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—California's newly enfranchised feminine voters are taking their duties of citizenship very seriously. They are not overlooaking even the proposed reorganization of the country's financial system under the Aldrich plan.

When the sub-committee of the National Monetary Commission today began its sittings in this city two of the State suffrage leaders, Mrs. Mary Damaga, president, and Miss Helen Moore, organizer of the State Equal Suffrage League, attended a portion of the session.

"We came to learn about this financial question," said Mrs. Damaga. "It is one with which every voter should become acquainted."

WILL KEEP THINGS STRAIGHT

State Treasurer Edwards Says That There Will Be No Grafting

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 2. — State Treasurer Edwards will not be bound by the action of the Mississippi Legislature with regard to the payment of interest on State bonds which he holds to be irregular. He will recognize only a peremptory order of the State Supreme Court. Mr. Edwards made his attitude clear tonight in a tart statement in which he critices Governor Noel and asserts:

"To be perfectly plain in the matter there is not going to be any grafting out of the Mississippi treasury while I am on the job if there is any known way by which good lawyers can prevent, if my pocket book holds out."

TEXAS IN GRIP OF "NORTHER."

Four Inches of Snow Reported at Clarendon—Fall in Other Sections.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 2.—With four inches of snow reported at Clarendon, Texas, and a heavy fall at Amarillo, where it has been snowing for 12 hours, Texas is in the grip of a "norther" which is rapidly spreading throughout the State. Wichita Falls and other points to the northwest report snow with generally cloudy atmosphere. Cold rain is falling in some sections.

At Vernon, Texas, a heavy snow fell last night. No snow fell in Vernon last Winter. At Gainesville occasional snow flurries fell today with a piercing wind from the north.

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 2.—Fears are entertained here for the safety of the schooner Merchant, which should have reached Gulfport, Miss., from Tampa, Fla., on Oct. 21. The vessel passed St. Andrew's Bay, 80 miles east of Pensacola, October 18th, and inquiries show that she has not yet arrived at her destination, or put in at any other gulf port.

MEMBERS WILL RETURN

Senators and Members of House Will Go to Washington

Washington, Nov. 2.—Political activity will characterize the return of members of the Senate and House to Washington during the early part of November. Elections in several States next week will terminate congressional and State contests, and many congressional leaders are expected to reach Washington before November 17th.

Important committee work will begin on that date when the Senate committee on inter-State commerce will begin hearings on trust legislation. The so-called steel trust on November 20th, and sugar trust investigations; the inquiry into State department matters, and the work of other special committees will be in full swing two weeks before Congress opens.

Members of the House Committee on Appropriations sail November 4th for Panama to investigate the needs of the canal. Members of the Senate Appropriations Committee already are in Panama. The congressional employers liability and workmen's compensation committee will resume hearings here next Monday. The National Monetary Committee will meet within a month to consider its final report to Congress, which must be made by January 8th.

The first formal conference on the forthcoming political campaign is to be held about the time Congress opens, December 4th. Charles D. Hilles, secretary to President Taft, and a possible choice for the chairmanship of the National Republican Committee; Vice President Sherman, Representative McKinley, of Illinois, chairman of the National Congressional Committee, and other Republican leaders will discuss Republican campaign matters before the meeting of the National Committee which is scheduled for December 12th in Washington. The Democratic National Committee will meet January 8th. The Democratic and Republican Congressional Committees will not meet until later on.

WANT BOOKS SUBMITTED.

District Attorney Pelletier Has Started Investigation.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2—District Attorney Pelletier announced tonight that he has requested the treasuries of the Republican and Democratic committees to submit their books to him for examination and has started an investigation along certain old lines regarding political advertisements in the newspapers.

He said his action was due to the receipt of a letter from Governor Foss charging that Chairman Hatfield and other officers of the Republican State committee violated the statutes by appealing to corporations for financial support. The governor also charges that Theodore Roosevelt and other editors and officials of the Outlook Company, the Boston Herald, the officers of the United Shoe Machinery Company, American Woolen Company, the Arkwright Club, published or caused to be published for circulation in this State political advertisements not signed in accordance with the statutes of 1908.

The advertisements, it is maintained, were antagonistic to the Democratic candidates in the State campaign.

COURT AT CLINTON

Receiver for Cherokee Lumber Co.—Building Cotton Warehouse

(Special Star Telegram.)

Clinton, N. C., Nov. 2.—Superior Court adjourned here today after a two-weeks' term held by Judge Geo. W. Ward. It is gratifying to note great improvement in the health of Judge Ward, who has been indisposed for some time. This was his first court in Sampson and he made a fine impression and many friends.

Upon the application of creditors, a receiver was today appointed for the Cherokee Lumber Company, a West Virginia corporation, doing a large milling business at Garlands, N. C. The indebtedness of the company is considerable and the receivership was precipitated by the execution of a mortgage by the corporation for $22,500 to John E. Wilson, a creditor of Dunn, N. C. N. A. Townsend, of Dunn, was named as temporary receiver.

The cotton storage warehouse being built here by L. A. Bethune, D. M. Patrick and G. A. Clute, is nearing completion. It will have a capacity of 2,000 bales.

WADESBORO HOTEL SOLD.

National House Purchased by Sumter, S. C., Man for $14,200.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Nov. 2.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon a large crowd of interested men gathered in front of the National Hotel of this place and the sale of the property was called by Auctioneer Morgan. The first part to be sold was the room now occupied by the Southern Savings Bank, which was bid in by the cashier of the bank, Mr. W. M. Morton, for $5,000. The hotel proper was then put up and the bidding on the same was lively, the first bid being $10,000. It was finally "knocked down" to Mr. Andrew L. Jackson, of Sumter, S. C., one of the most active hotel men in this section of the country, at $14,200. The sale will not be confirmed in five days and in case the same is raised 2 1-2 per cent. within five days, there will be another sale.

ARMY AND NAVY GAME.

Big Rush for Seats for Premier Football Contest.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 2.—No further applications will be received by the Navy Athletic Association for tickets to the army-navy football game at Philadelphia on November 25th. The demand for tickets is so great that about one-half of the naval officers belonging to the Navy Athletic Association, the body which supports athletics at the naval academy, will receive but two tickets apiece. The remainder will receive three each. There will be none for general distribution. The nearness of the Atlantic fleet to the scene of the game is given as the reason for the great demand.

Manila Nov. 2.—The Chinese district here was swept by fire today with a loss of over $1000000. The commercial center of the city was threatened but the Twentieth infantry was called out to assist the fire fighters and further disaster was prevented

ACCUSED MINISTER RESIGNS.

Sends His Resignation to Church, Dated November 1st.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—The Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, who on October 31st was indicted by the grand jury on the charge of murdering Miss Avis Linnell, the Hyannis music student, has resigned as pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church at Cambridge. His resignation, which was dated November 1st, reached Charles F. Cummings, clerk of the church, today. The postoffice stamp showed that it had been mailed in the Back Bay yesterday afternoon.

Although the text of the accused minister's letter of resignation is not yet obtainable, it is understood to be in such form that its acceptance will not embarrass even his personal supporters in the church. Action of the church on the resignation is not likely to be taken for nearly two weeks.

There was a conference today of the attorneys for Richeson, at which there were present Robert O. Harris, member of Congress; former Judge James R. Dunbar, Philip R. Dunbar, and John Lee, the latter of Lynchburg, Va. After the conference, Mr. Lee declared that a complete vindication of the accused minister would be the outcome of the trial.

LOOK AHEAD

One dollar a week deposited in our savings bank for 20 years will amount to about $1,400.00. A deposit of $5 a week will amount to about $7,000. The annual interest on this at 4 per cent. would be $310. Thus the man who deposits $5 a week in our bank can after 20 years draw out $5 a week and still leave to his wife and children at his death all the money he deposited and more.
